

Shang 'happy it's over' as charges dismissed

It's been a horrible experience. I'm happy that it's over. Walter "Shang" Greathouse told the Press-Record Wednesday.

Charges of official misconduct, failure to report a bribe and conspiracy to commit bribery were dismissed by Associate Judge Charles V. Romani Jr. after dismissal was sought Monday by Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zack" Smith.

GREATHOUSE, 63, of Granite City was praised in Smith's motion for comporting himself "in an exemplary manner with respect to the administration of the Metro East Sanitary District.

President of MESD, Greathouse also is a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals of Madison County. His late father, J.W. Greathouse, was Granite City alderman.

The indictment of Greathouse in April 1983 contended $500 was passed along to Greathouse by James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments, after being provided by William Nichols.

NICHOLS, a Horseshoe Lake area property owner, said he was seeking rezoning. Nichols was granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for his testimony and cooperation.

Nichols' rezoning proposal was defeated and Greathouse was against it, Barton said. A $1,000 political campaign contribution was received and forwarded to campaign treasuries, he said. Nichols asked for no favors.

This week's dismissal motion asserted that, to support the case against Greathouse, Barton would have to testify. State's Attorney Don W. Weber was said to be neither willing nor able to vouch for Barton's credibility as a witness.

WEBER, a Republican, is seeking reelection this year. Smith and Nichols also are Republicans. Greathouse and Barton are Democrats.

Another point in the motion was that Greathouse was not the person linked to the act "that was the focus of the alleged bribe."

Greathouse said he did not ask for money, did not want it, and returned it to Barton the next day even though it had been called a political contribution.

CHARGES AGAINST Barton were dismissed last year by Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson, who said Weber's conduct had made a fair trial impossible. However, the charges were reinstated in March by the 5th District Appellate Court, and Barton has since sought Illinois Supreme Court approval to appeal the reinstatement.

Smith, Weber's legal adviser to the Madison County Board, said the prosecutor asked him two months ago to review the Greathouse charges.

Smith on Monday quoted Weber as saying there were "some problems" with the case.

Tax delay leads MESD to consider ceasing operation

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record
Metro-East Sanitary District (MESD) Board President and Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse told the board Wednesday that he would rather shut down all flood control operations in this area than borrow money to make up for the delay in property tax billing in Madison County.

Pounding his hand on the table, Greathouse said, "I would suggest that we don't borrow any money. I would rather close the place down for 30 days or cut back to the point where they won't recognize us, than go into debt."

GREATHOUSE added that if the county gives MESD no indication by the end of the week as to when tax bills will be issued, he will be forced to reduce personnel.

"If it's a question of the weeds being high and me being in debt, the weeds can be high," he warned.

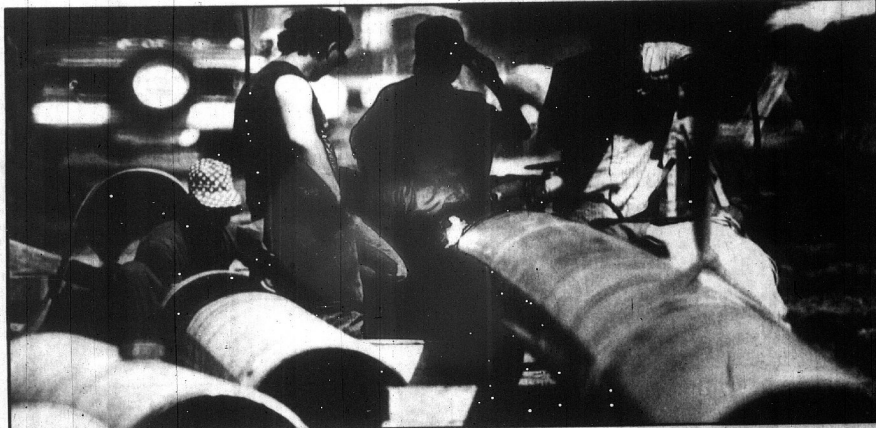

Greathouse told the Press-Record that he doesn't know if MESD will be forced financially to stop flood control operations or borrow funds to make up for the lack of tax revenues until he hears more from county tax officials.

SOME OFFICIALS predict that some property tax bills will not be issued until September. State law requires that the tax bills be issued by June 1, or as soon thereafter as possible.

Because of the delay, many taxing districts have been forced to issue tax anticipation warrants to make up revenue shortages. The Granite City School District predicts it will pay $800 a day in interest on its loans to cover expenses until it receives its share of property tax revenues. The Granite City Park District also will borrow funds until it receives its tax revenues.

In other action, the board decided to increase sewage treatment rates for customers served by the Lansdowne treatment plant. Rates will go up 350 percent, bringing the minimum monthly payment to $6.82 from $1.95 per month. Bills will be issued every two months instead of quarterly. A related story appears on this page.

Units to appraise GC Steel

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record
Is a production machine real estate or personal property? That is one of the questions that may be answered this fall or winter when Granite City Steel and local governmental agencies debate the value of the steel plant.

"Granite City Steel thinks it should pay only one-fifth of what it historically has been paying in real estate taxes."

If more of its property is classed as personal, there would be big savings in yearly costs associated with operating the mammoth steelmaking facility. Companies pay corporate personal property replacement taxes but the amount is tied to such factors as earnings.

OWNED BY NATIONAL Intergroup, Inc., and soon to be half-owned by Nippon Kokan of Japan, the local National Steel mill cost valued four-fifths of its real estate valuation on Jan. 3.

It asked that the $51,553,490 original valuation for the 1983 tax year (1984 collection) be changed to $9,050,999, records of Madison County Assessment Supervisor James Barton show. State law requires that the assessment be one-third of total actual value.

On Feb. 2 the steel firm proposed a 20 percent reduction at a hearing before the county's Board of Review.

MESD hikes rates by 350%

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

As expected, the Metro-East Sanitary District Board Wednesday approved a draft ordinance raising rates for Lansdowne Sewage Treatment Plant customers 350 percent. The ordinance will now be submitted to the board's attorney for review of the wording of the ordinance and to ascertain the proper method of public notification.

The ordinance was drawn up by consulting engineer George Sallwasser of Horner and Shifrin, Inc., St. Louis. In a letter to the board, Sallwasser pointed out that of the 6,341 customers served by the Lansdowne plant, 49 percent are billed a minimum bill of $1.95 per month. The new ordinance would raise that to $6.82 per month and would provide for bi-monthly billing, instead of the current quarterly billing.

THE ORDINANCE was passed with one dissenting vote from member Russell Robinson. The rate increase may go into effect after public notification and a waiting period of 90 days.

In addition to the rate increase and billing period, the ordinance reduces the number of user categories, which Board President and Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse said would simplify the billing process.

Greathouse said he would "be happy" to meet with individual and group customers to explain the

Plan separate steel bargaining

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Separate bargaining with National Steel is in store for local United Steelworkers, following the steelmaker's decision to withdraw from the six-company coordinated negotiating group.

Word of the decision was given Monday to Lynn Williams, international president of the union.

"We believe this action is in the best long-term interest of National and its employees. We want greater flexibility to deal with the issues most important to our company and our employees," a National Steel spokesman said.

CORPORATE OFFICIALS from Pittsburgh are coming here tomorrow to confer with Buddy

W. Davis, United Steelworkers of America district director, and James Kelahan of the USWA, Granite City staff.

National previously joined with other major producers—U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Inland, Armco and LTV—in negotiating contracts for all of the big firms.

The present contract has two years to run, until Aug. 1, 1986.

KELAHAN NOTED that some "extra work" will be involved in future negotiations, due to the separation. There are more than 2,000 USWA members at Granite City Steel.

Davis has headed the National Steel portion of the union's talks. All National plants have the same pay level but their plant-level contracts contain language unique to each plant.

David Dowling, president of Local 67, commented that he hopes the new procedure does not tend to pit company against company and plant against plant.

Stanley Ellspermann, National Steel human resources vice president, said in Pittsburgh that the goal is not to reduce pay and fringe benefits.

HE SAID NATIONAL wants a contract that is "right for our employees"—one flexible enough to meet special needs.

He noted that National has been increasing the scope of employee participation in its operations and that, to achieve participatory goals, it believes more direct dealings with the staff are essential.

Woman, 75, is bilked of $5,000

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Granite City police are warning residents of a possible scam operation in the city following an incident involving a 75-year-old Granite City woman who lost $5,000 Monday.

According to Police Sgt. Don Knight, a man contacted the woman Monday and identified himself as "Mr. Johnson." He worked for "Mr. Johnson" at a local bank. The man told the woman that there was a discrepancy with her certificate of deposit and that someone at the bank had been printing CDs in her name and cashing them.

KNIGHT SAID the man told the victim to call the police department and ask for Officer Williams. He gave her the correct number for the police department, but, Knight said, the call must have been intercepted.

After she called the number, someone answered with "police department." She asked to speak to Officer Williams, and another man told her she should cooperate with police and get her $5,000 CD from her safe deposit box and cash it for bills. He told her the bills would be marked.

Then, the person said, she should act like she was returning the bills to the safe deposit box, but instead, take the bills home. Knight said the man assured her that she would be under surveillance.

WHEN THE woman returned home from the bank, the phone was ringing and "Officer Williams" told her to take the money to the Kroger Food Store, where a detective would meet her and take the money. That detective would then go to the bank and confront the alleged suspect.

Appeal of rail-barge merger is anticipated

By ELLEN R. GREEN
The American Waterways Operators, Inc.

In a decision destined to profoundly alter the barge and towing industry and the entire U.S. transportation system, the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) has voted unanimously to approve the acquisition of American Commercial Line, Inc. by CSX Corp. This is the first time in history the agency has approved the purchase of a barge line by a railroad. An appeal by waterway interests is expected once the ICC issues its written opinion on the case, which is due by Aug. 28.

The July 24 vote brings to culmination a case that has been before the ICC since November 1983. The crux of the issue before the ICC was to determine if the merger would violate the Panama Canal Act of 1912, which prohibits a railroad from acquiring a barge line unless the ICC finds that certain conditions are met.

THE FOUR-MEMBER commission unanimously agreed that CSX and ACL do compete for traffic. According to the Panama Canal Act, once competition between the two companies is found, the ICC can approve the transaction only when:

"The railroad's control will still permit the water carrier to be operated 'to the advantage of the public,'" and
"The railroad's control will not 'exclude, prevent or reduce competition' on the water route in question."

OPPONENTS OF THE case have argued that granting the acquisition would not be in the public interest since it would pave the way toward rail monopoly and greater consumer costs. In addition, opponents have testified that reduction in competition is inevitable since CSX would have the financial ability to offer lower rates for the ACL shipments, thereby undercutting and eventually eliminating the competition.

Louis E. Gittomer, deputy director of the ICC's rail section, countered opponents' arguments at the July 24 special meeting by saying that the acquisition would not result in reduced competition on the water routes used by ACL. He described the barge and towing industry as being competitive and unconcentrated, adding that there are no regulatory restraints on the industry, just economic restraints.

ICC Chairman Reese H. Taylor Jr., who repeatedly said that he had "agonized" over his decision, noted that if two competitors are merged, "that somehow increases market concentration." However, he added, an increase in market power, "doesn't necessarily mean competition is reduced, but it may mean a reduction in the number of competitors."

THE ISSUE OF CSX's engaging in predatory pricing was reviewed by the commission, with Taylor saying that there appears to be enough competition from barge lines at this time to prevent such "abuse" by the railroads, but added that he was concerned about the future.

Gittomer conceded as well that there was "a possibility" that CSX would use predatory pricing techniques.

As a means of overseeing the effects of the merger, the commission voted, 3-1, in favor of monitoring the transaction on an annual basis, at which time acquisition-generated complaints will be considered. Commissioner Frederic N. Andre voted against the review period idea. A formalized procedure for this review will be included in the ICC's written opinion on the case.

ACCORDING TO THE proceedings, once this written opinion is served, the voting trust arrangement under which ACL is currently held will be dissolved and the company will come under formal control of CSX.

Reaction to the ICC decision was strong and immediate. Numerous statements made by AWO, the Water Transport Association, the National Coal Association and other shipping groups were picked up by major news outlets.

In a statement to the press, AWO President Joseph Farrell said that by permitting the merger, "the ICC was sanctioning an extremely dangerous precedent. There can be no more important public interest issue than the preservation of competition."

"From vigorous competition flows lower rates, innovative services, ample supply of equipment, and all the many benefits that result from a management striving for improved efficiency so that it may prevail in the marketplace. The reduction in competition that this merger allows will bring inefficiency and higher consumer prices."

"THE PARAMOUNT issue here is protection of the American consumer, who will be the ultimate loser in a marketplace of rail monopoly and reduced competition. This fight is not over," Farrell concluded. "We're confident we'll be successful on appeal."

Bi-State's undercover security program cuts bus crime in half

The Bi-State Transit Division of the Bi-State Development Agency continues to register success through its undercover police surveillance program on board buses. Figures released for the month of June indicate that the number of arrests and incidents aboard buses has been cut almost in half over the number reported for the same month last year.

The most frequent charges stem from smoking, drinking and peace disturbances on board buses. In June, 13 incidents of smoking, 14 incidents of drinking and 11 incidents of peace disturbances were handled by undercover police officers. In the same month one year ago there were 26 incidents of smoking, 23 incidents of drinking and 40 incidents of peace disturbances.

Bi-State's undercover police surveillance program was the first of its kind in the nation. Off-duty police officers and sheriff's deputies in plain clothes randomly board buses within their jurisdictions with authority to issue summonses and make arrests.

The number of arrests reported each year has declined steadily since the program was initiated in 1979.

"The decline in arrests is solid proof that our program is working to improve safety and comfort for our bus passengers," said Michael H. Setzer, general manager of transit. "Word continues to spread that Bi-State will enforce restrictions on board buses. Obviously, fewer people are willing to take the chance of being caught by an off-duty police officer for misbehavior while riding the bus."

Bi-State's successful undercover police surveillance program has been copied by a number of transit systems across the country including those in Atlanta, Los Angeles, Houston, Newark, N.J. and Miami.

Knights get approval to occupy former Johnson School

In a 12 to 2 vote Monday night, members of the Granite City Council approved C-3 zoning of the former Johnson School, the new home of the Tri-Cities Knights of Columbus Council 1098.

Final passage of the zoning had been delayed until an agreement could be worked out between the Norwood and Melrose Subdivision residents and the Knights.

THE ORDINANCE requires the Knights of Columbus to acquire property and construct a private road way, at the club's expense, from West Pontoon Road along the west side of Rode Drive. The road is to be constructed in conjunction with a planned city drainage project in the Melrose Subdivision.

Irvin C. Slate Jr., a city attorney, told the council that the city is committed, under the ordinance, to "move forward and exercise good faith" in completing the drainage.

The ordinance requires that the road be established within 18 months and, if it is not, the Knights of Columbus have promised to shorten operating hours to noon to 7 p.m. until the road is finished.

According to City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, the Knights of Columbus facility would normally be allowed to stay open until the city's normal tavern closing hours of 1 a.m. on weeknights and 2 a.m. on weekends.

The ordinance also prohibits the use of lights on a ball field which may be constructed on the Knight's property at a later time.

The only two alderman who voted against the zoning were Sam Whitmer and Paul Fisk.

WHITMER SAID he doesn't think the city should get involved in the agreement between the two private parties. He also said he does not agree with the money that is being spent to provide drainage in the Melrose area.

Fisk had said earlier that he, too, disagreed with the drainage project. He said that the residents of his ward were not given free drainage and he did not think that the Melrose residents should be given drainage at no charge.

Fisk also questioned the legal implications of the ordinance at an earlier meeting, saying he feels the city may be sued if it is not able to start the drainage project within the next 18 months.

THE MONDAY agreement, marks the end of a two-month long delay in council action on the zoning. The Knights purchased the facility from the Granite City School District 9 for $587,000 earlier last spring. The facility formerly was zoned residential.

Summerstage to present 'Pinocchio' this weekend

"If only — if only you were real, little puppet. A real boy. Ah, how wonderful that would be. If I had a real boy, a son of my own."

The above words express Geppetto's wish for a son in the enchanting children's show, "Pinocchio," which will be presented by Summerstage, Granite City, the community theatre company.

"Pinocchio," the story of the puppet who becomes a real boy due to the love of a kind man, will be presented Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 4 and 5 at the Star Theater on State Street in downtown Granite City. Curtain time is 2 p.m.

On both days, the audience will have a chance to meet and visit with the cast after the performances. Refreshments will be sold by the Star Theater.

Tickets for both shows may be obtained from any cast member by calling 877-2228, or at the door.

Major characters in "Pinocchio" are portrayed by George Cochran as Geppetto; Jim Drago as Pinocchio; Brian Harris as Geppetto's oldest and dearest friend, Master Cherry; Eddie Doniojan as the Blue Fairy who brings Pinocchio to life and Joanne Tindall as the voice of Cricket.

Also, Bryce Moore as the carnival Barker; Mike Salem as Candlewick, Pinocchio's friend, Ann Scott as the Fire Eater; Adam Schneider as Harlequin; Pinocchio's wooden brother, Beth Bodman as Columbine; Pinocchio's wooden sister and Michael Moore as the undermining coachman who persuades Pinocchio and Candlewick to come and visit the land of the Dismalings.

Luis Garcia Fensterman and Jim Fensterman portray the comedy duo of the clumsy Cat and the cunning Fox, respectively.

The show is directed by John Manogian. Brenda Whitaker is the assistant director. Cindy Wood and Dynette Schrader are assistants to the director.

The party will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The Jazz Lab Band will play and refreshments will be served.

Carpenters' strike stops dam project

Work stopped this morning on the Lock and Dam 26 replacement project south of Alton as members of the Carpenters District Council of Madison County and vicinity formed picket lines.

A spokesman from the office at 617 W. Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell would not specify why union members have gone on strike, except to say that there is a disagreement over the contract. The carpenters' contract expired at mid-night Tuesday.

The strike has stopped work on the $540 million project to build a new lock and dam to replace the present 46-year-old facility upstream. The general contractor of the project is Groves, Atkinson and Ball.

Against Vanzo's Stolte, Peterson boost Spanky's

By AL BARNES for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — When a pitcher shuts out Bill Stolte four straight times at bat, the fifth time he comes up, something has got to give, and that's for sure.

Stolte, playing manager of the 7-Up Spanky's, came through with a three-run homer last night here at Hoppe Park to tie the game with his bitter rivals, the Vanzo's, in the ninth, 8-8, and set the stage for a dramatic blast by the club's business manager and former star player, Pat Peterson.

After Stolte's spine-tingling opposite: field, four-bagger, Keith Hoskinson, whose two-run homer in Spanky's big four-run rally in the seventh had cut Vanzo's lead to 7-5, was walked by the losers' third hurler, Ralph Jackson.

Next Spanky's batter, catcher Joe

Gasaway, was walked, but Jackson got Doug Peters to fly out to center. Then up stepped Pat Peterson for his first appearance in a 1984 game. With the count 2-2, the wiry and slender Peterson blasted a drive through shortstop to score the winning (Hoskinson) run. The Peterson blow could either be a hit or an error. It was that close.

Vince Broderick started again for the Spanky's and his luck against Vanzo's this season continued off as the first three batters teed off on his pitches: a leadoff double by Kevin King, a 1-0 homer by Rod Jackson, and suddenly the lanky Broderick was in trouble.

Vanzo's added single runs in the second, fourth (a homer by King) and fifth. In the sixth, Stolte called on Marc Gluckman to relieve Broderick, and except for a bad bounce off of the rock-hard Hoppe infield, could have gotten off without a run. However, he did give up two runs but set down the side in order in both the seventh and eighth. Bill Huber, the Spanky's relief ace came on in the ninth and walked the leadoff man, Dave Veith, who went to third on a throwing error and scored what looked like an insurance run and making the score, 8-5.

Granite City's Darren DeWet caught for Vanzo's and went two for five. The losers' top three hitters all dove in two runs: King (3 for 5), Jackson (1 for 1) and Veith (2 for 4).

Tonight the Vanzo's and Spanky's will again battle it out at Hoppe Park. Spanky's leads in the series this season, 3-1. Hurling for the Spanky's will be SU-E's freshman hurler, John Groenert, of New Baden who will stay with the club for the rest of the season. Saturday night, Spanky's will play either Cape Girardeau or Sotolars for the Missouri state championship at 8 p.m. on the Maryville College diamond off route 40.

The following weekend, Spanky's will be at Wichita, Kansas, for the double elimination National Baseball Congress tournament. It will be their sixth trip in the seven years they have been a NBC team.

VA raises funding fee

The Veterans Administration is raising by one-half percentage point the funding fee collected by VA in connection with all guaranteed or direct loans closed on or after Aug. 17.

VA Administrator Harry N. Walters said the increase, from 1/2 percent to one percent, is made in accordance with requirements of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984. Walters said the only exceptions are loans made to veterans receiving VA compensation for service-connected disabilities, or to surviving spouses of veterans who died in service or as a result of a service-connected disability.

The one percent funding fee must be collected in connection with all types of VA-guaranteed loans, including refinancing loans and interest rate reduction refinancing loans, home improvement loans, Graduated Payment Mortgages, Growing Equity Mortgages, and loans with buydown plans. The funding fee may be included in the loan and paid from loan proceeds without regard to provisions limiting the loan amount to the reasonable value of the property, according to VA.

The current interest rate for VA home loans is 14 percent.

$350 IN COINS TAKEN

County is avoiding overspending so far

By JIM WOODCOCK

A mid-year report shows Madison County departments are apparently having little difficulty operating within their budgets.

County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields told the County Board finance committee that he will send letters to several departments that are running slightly over their budgets this year.

He stressed that no department has been guilty of an alarming case of overspending, and the county's budget situation appears sound for now.

In the beginning of the fiscal year last December, Fields and other county officials warned departments that staying within budgets might be difficult.

The board last fall approved very few budget increases to individual departments, making for an austere fiscal 1984 budget year.

Several department heads said layoffs and reductions in service were inevitable without receiving budget increases. But Fields said, so far, departments have managed well with the budgets they received.

That includes Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas, who has requested budget increases several times because of a staff shortage and the need for more sophisticated equipment.

"It looks like Rink is right on target this year," Fields said.

As of July 6, the recorder's office spent $128,642, 61 percent of its budget. Fields said departments should be at about 58 percent of their budgets by now, but that figure can vary in some cases.

The detention home, another county operation which experienced dire budget problems last year, is also in good financial position this year, Fields said.

Juvenile detention has spent $38,720, or 64 percent of its budget this far.

Last year, detention home superintendent Darrell McGibany had to lobby hard to get the finance committee to release $10,000 in federal revenue sharing money for operations so it could remain open through fiscal 1985.

The jury commission has spent $24,022 or 67 percent of its budget. But Fields said the circuit court and circuit clerk will pick up expenses incurred once that budget is exhausted.

Departments which have spent slightly over 58 percent of their budgets so far this year include the circuit court, probation, vehicle maintenance, zoning and building, licensing and legal publications, coroner, and education.

"Maybe those departments are something that needs to be looked in to, but it's nothing concrete," Fields said. "I don't know if there's any reason to become alarmed over any of these figures. It's still too early in the year."

Finance Chairman Bill Little of Alton said, "A lot of times they'll adjust their budgets and do what they have to do. We don't want to offend anyone on this with the letter."

Fields compiled the report based on operational expenditures from Dec. 1 to June 30, and salary expenditures from Dec. 1 to July 6.

Of the county's five departments that have spent the most money this fiscal year, four of them are at the average of 58 percent of their budgets so far, or below that.

The sheriff's department and jail has spent the most in the county thus far, $1.1 million, and is right at 58 percent.

The county highway department is next, $1.7 million, and is only at 25 percent of its budget. However, much of that department's work is ahead.

The county clerk's office has spent $601,623 thus far, 36 percent of its budget. The circuit clerk's office has spent $537,718, right at 58 percent.

The county nursing home has spent $846,891 so far, 59 percent of its budget.

Two departments with large deficits, thus far, are the state's attorney mobile home fund and the sheriff's department merit board.

Fields said the mobile home fund, which is 47 percent into its budget already, needs about $9,500 to get through the rest of the year.

He said an oversight by the finance committee when budgets were being created resulted in a small budget for that fund.

The merit board's overrun (78 percent of its budget has been spent) has resulted from a recent investigation of a sheriff's department employee, a legitimate expenditure, he added.

"Everything looks good so far," Fields said. "There hasn't been a significant impact anywhere yet."

DOGS LET LOOSE, TAKEN

Granite City Humane Office Paul Derossell told police late last week, that someone entered the fenced in area of the Granite City Humane Shelter on Missouri Avenue and let all of the dogs out of their pens. A white German Shepherd dog had been taken. Police officials said there was no apparent entry made into the main building.

Big cash surplus still worries transit board

By PAUL GUSE

A bankroll of more than $3 million is making the Madison County Transit District board once again search for a good use for the money.

The board again has talked of suspending its quarter-cent sales tax as a way of reducing the surplus.

The transit board has reviewed various methods for spending the district's money since discovering the surplus funds in January.

The funds were left in the board's bank accounts when bus charges from the Bi-State Development Agency were temporarily reduced from $150,000 to $125,000 per month due to increased federal money made available to Bi-State.

The board at that time suggested a road improvement plan in which $1 million of the board's money would be spent to resurface Madison County roads which Bi-State buses travel.

That plan was tabled when Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith suggested possible legal problems. The board is still waiting for an opinion from the attorney general.

Madison County Transit District Chairman William Haine said he is worried about the public's opinion of the huge surplus. "People accept a reasonable surplus but we're fast approaching a situation that is not good," Haine said.

"The problem we have created is because of our own thrift."

Haine said even though the transit board provided extensive programs for the transit of elderly and handicapped persons, through good management the board has still been able to accumulate a surplus.

He said that while he finds the surplus disturbing, the money is still being well used. He said all money is deposited in county banks — none is in Missouri banks — and is an asset to the county's economy.

Edwardsville consultant Matt Melucci, who has been retained by the board to prepare a planning report, recommended at the meeting that the quarter-cent tax for Bi-State not be immediately suspended as the board had previously suggested.

Melucci said that with the volatile nature of the transit industry, the board's surplus may be used up sooner than expected.

He said some rumors from Washington indicate that federal funding of transportation may be cut dramatically.

Haine however, said he was adamant in wanting to find a solution to the surplus. "It might be a complication for businesses (to have to change their tax schedules), but the interest of the taxpayers must come first," Haine said.

"Our intent is to improve the capital base of cities."

"If the agency can do that in the purview of its charter, we're doing what people want us to do."

"Not a week goes by where we don't get a complaint about a bus or special transit vehicle getting jarred by crumbling streets. The cities just don't have the money to keep up with it."

The board expects the opinion on the road improvement plan from the attorney general sometime this fall. If the opinion is favorable, some of the board's surplus money is to be spent on county streets.

Haine said the board might suspend the tax in addition to the road plan.

Regardless of the attorney general's opinion, a decision on suspending the tax should be made by December, Haine concluded.

John 14:15 "If you love me, keep my commandments"

Our Lord is well pleased with obedience. Even above sacrifice. Whatever we render unto God in the way of love, devotion, and in the will be judged in the light of our willingness to give. God loves a cheerful giver.

Out of obedience and devotion arises a habitual faith which makes God, though unseen, a part of our life. He leads us and guides us in a sure path. He never leaves or forsakes us. God is faithful to His people.

Let us be faithful to God. How is this best done? By keeping his commandments. If we truly love Him, we will keep His commandments. By doing this you will show God your love. And you'll show the rest of the world also.

Why not love God today!

Robber flourishes knife at restaurant Monday

A knife-wielding robber obtained about $95 Monday at the Mister Donut restaurant, 3134 Nameoki Road.

The man appeared to be about 20 years old; 5'8" tall, weighing 120 pounds, with black hair and moustache.

He spent about 20 minutes there before displaying a large folding knife and demanding cash.

The robber also searched an employee's purse and unsuccessfully sought to gain access to a safe. He then pulled the cord from a telephone and ran south along Nameoki Road.

State Police win Golden Eagle Award

Illinois State Police District 11, Collinsville, received three distinctions in a special ceremony at Sonnie and Char's restaurant, Monday morning.

District 11 was named the winner of the Illinois State Police Golden Eagle Award for stolen vehicle recovery. The program was implemented last September to recognize troopers' efforts to recover stolen vehicles.

STATE POLICE Superintendent

Laimutis Nargeleas presented the Golden Eagle trophy to Captain Bobby Henry, commander of District 11. Henry's troopers accounted for 152 vehicle recoveries since Sept. 1, resulting in 32 arrests.

District 11 also had the top two individual troopers in the Golden Eagle program.

Trooper Jeffrey Grieve accumulated 70 points for the 24 vehicles he recovered. Grieve, of Bethalto, received a plaque and special set of license plates for his patrol car.

TROOPER Michael Donovan's 13 recoveries and 40 points placed him second behind Grieve in the program. Donovan, of Lebanon, also received a plaque for his efforts.

Grieve and Donovan also will have the opportunity to attend a conference of auto theft investigators in Reno, Nev., Aug. 26-31.

Master Sgt. Kenneth Barry, vehicle investigation bureau chief, said points were awarded for the type of recoveries made by the troopers.

Recovery of abandoned vehicles was worth three points, recoveries resulting in arrests were worth five points, and those which led to the discovery of auto theft rings were worth 15 points, according to Barry.

HENRY SAID HE was elated with District 11's first Golden Eagle, crediting the entire district staff for its hard work.

"I've put a lot of emphasis on this program . . . that includes giving officers the latitude to work on the stolen car detail when they want," he said. "The Golden Eagle program has the effect of increasing troopers' awareness in identifying stolen vehicles."

Grieve said he felt good about the individual award but was especially proud of the achievement of District 11.

"IT TOOK EXTRA hard work and looking," he said. "I think in the long run the program has really paid off."

The program was funded through the Department of Law Enforcement but Barry said there is hope for outside funding next year.

"We hope to get the insurance companies involved in funding because the accomplishments of the Golden Eagle program save them money," he said.

Following the award ceremony, the special set of plates was affixed to Grieve's squad car by zone commander Paul Stokes. The red, white and blue plates, which were approved by Secretary of State Jim Edgar, are adorned with the Golden Eagle insignia and the Illinois state seal.

NARGELEAS SAID the Golden Eagle trophy was originally designed to be a traveling trophy. But in all likelihood it will remain with District 11 and a new one will be purchased next year, he said.

will export over $1.3 billion in soybeans and soybean products.

Anderson said those exports go directly to the countries that will be hit by the steel import quotas. He said that if the steel industry gets its way, those nations will not be able to sell as much steel to the U.S. and eventually will not be able to purchase our soybeans and soybean products because they won't have earned enough foreign exchange.

Anderson also said that if the U.S. imposes quotas on steel imports, those countries would likely retaliate by slapping import barriers against U.S. exports to their countries. Anderson singled out the European Community (EC) which last year imported almost $4 billion in soybeans and soybean products. He said the EC would most likely retaliate by putting import quotas on U.S. soybeans and soybean products, a measure which the EC has recently considered.

Anderson voiced a probable response by some that the foreign customers would not reduce their soybean imports. But Anderson said that, even though that's true, those commodities can be purchased elsewhere. "While we agree that they need soybean imports, those soybeans don't have to come from the U.S.," Anderson said. "They can, instead, be imported from Brazil or Argentina, our major competitors."

With import quotas on foreign steel, which costs less than U.S. steel, U.S. steel prices would certainly rise. Not only would U.S. farmers lose exports, they would also pay more for machinery, equipment and other products made with steel, according to Anderson.

The Congressional Budget Office has projected the need to U.S. consumers of steel quotas to be $7.7 billion annually.

Anderson called for an abandonment of this form of "protectionism."

"At a time like this," he said, "when we're already struggling to make a profit from farming, we can't afford such a cost. Let's not cripple one segment of our economy while trying to remedy another segment's problem."

Anderson is president of the Land of Lincoln Soybean Association, a 4,426 member association of soybean producers formed to promote soybean exports and encourage greater consumption of soybeans.

VENICE MAN ALLEGES BATTERY BY TWO MEN

Kenneth Boyd of 174 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, told police he was attacked by two men at 5:05 p.m. Monday after he left a store at the corner of Logan and Weaver streets.

Boyd said one of the men hit his head with a fist and an axe handle. He said the other man hit his head and face with a pistol and fists.

Police reports stated that Boyd's left ear was bleeding and his left arm was bruised and starting to swell.

OVER THIRTY YEARS OF COMBATING PAIN

In his thirty-three years of practice in the Tri-City area, Dr. Walter Heidke has dealt with pain in all of its manifestations. People free of pain do not realize the terrible toll that is extracted in physiological and psychological disability to its victims. The foremost obligation of any healing profession is to assist the patient to be comfortable and resume a normal life. Many people, according to Dr. Heidke, come to Chiropractors after they have exhausted all other areas of medical expertise. Many are desperate for relief. Fortunately, Chiropractic is that most suited for pain reduction.

While other methods may prescribe drugs and alleviate, they at most afford only temporary relief. Chiropractors aim at relief without impairments and the frustrations of drug therapy. I have been providing health care in the community for over 3 decades and I am sure that this has built-up a sense of trust and confidence with my patients that is extremely supportive.

Dr. Heidke's practice is also unique in that he is a recognized expert in the field of forensic medicine. Dr. Heidke states that this situation, just seemed to evolve when many of his patients had claims for injuries that required court assistance to verify. These situations were never ducked because Dr. Heidke felt he owed it to his patients to help them solve their problems and be justly compensated for their injuries. Dr. Heidke's endeavors are not confined to private practice, he is president of Advanced Educational Concept Incorporated, a video tape education production company. His expertise in the personal injury field is utilized by Logan Chiropractic College in putting on seminars for the college post doctoral courses. At this time his company, in conjunction with Logan College, is putting on seminars to teach doctors in the field how to handle personal injury situations. The course just given in St. Louis dealt with many medical-legal situations and demonstrated many diagnostic adjuncts such as the new Electronic Thermography equipment and electro-myography equipment for nerve conduction studies.

In mid-August of this year, Dr. Heidke will take into his office a recent graduate of Logan Chiropractic. He is Dr. Charles King, Jr., a native of Granite City, Illinois. At that time, Dr. Heidke's office will be open six days a week in order to better serve the community.

It has always been Dr. Heidke's policy to offer quality service with a fee structure that people can live with. It's bad enough to be in pain, but to not be able to afford to get well is a sign of the times, and a terrible situation.

Dr. Heidke's office is located at 3701 Nameoki Road in Granite City. His phone number is 452-3444.

U.S. Steel quarterly profit is $140 million

U.S. Steel Corp. earned a profit of $140 million, or $1.04 per common share, on sales of $4.9 billion in the second quarter of 1984, Board Chairman David M. Roderick announced Tuesday.

This compares with a loss of $112 million, or $1.25 per common share, on sales of $4.4 billion in the second quarter of 1983.

Operating income totaled $472 million in the second quarter of 1984, an increase of $306 million over the comparable period last year. All segments showed an improvement over the same quarter last year.

Financial results for the second quarter of 1984 included $27 million (net of income tax) of extraordinary gain related to the early repurchase of debt.

Steel and related resources generated operating income of $184 million, or $1.5 billion in sales in the second quarter of 1984, compared with a loss of $30 million on sales of $1.5 billion in the second quarter of 1983. Second quarter operating results for steel and related resources are the segment's best since the third quarter of 1981," said Roderick.

"Steel product shipments were up 23 percent over the second quarter of last year with the greatest increases in sheet and tubular products. The corporation's continuing efforts to improve efficiency and reduce costs also contributed to this segment's improved operating results," he said.

Roderick continued: "The favorable effects of these efforts, however, are being diminished by the intolerable level of steel that is being imported into the U.S. market. During the first half of 1984, more than 12 million tons of foreign steel entered our ports, accounting for over 24 percent of the apparent domestic supply. Imports from government-owned or subsidized Third World steel producers have increased by over 90 percent during the same period. This continuing flood of government subsidized or produced steel underscores the urgent need for passage of the Fair Trade in Steel Act, which would limit the amount of imported steel to 15 percent of the domestic market for a five-year period. It is imperative that the Congress pass this legislation before it adjourns," he said.

Concerning the outlook for steel, Roderick said: "We have seen a marked decline in the level of order for steel products in recent weeks, which will result in reduced third quarter shipments and operating rates. However, we continue to project a profitable year for our steel and related resources segment."

Classes to aid diabetics

A great deal of information and help is available to assist diabetics live a full life and avoid complications. That is the reason St. Elizabeth Medical Center is offering classes Aug. 13 and 14 from 7 to 9 p.m. in Pascal Hall.

Carol Henrichs, registered nurse and diabetes educator, will provide a general overview of the disease and discuss symptoms, management and complications.

Registered dietitian Esther McGinnis will discuss nutrition, eating out, sweeteners and meal planning using the "exchange" system. Michael Weaver, a pharmacist at SEMC, will discuss insulin and oral anti-diabetic agents.

For additional information or to register for the classes, interested persons may call 798-3144.

No trial date set; Massey to prosecute

No trial date has been chosen as yet for Robert Earl Spainhower, 46, Madison, who is charged with two counts of aggravated indecent liberties with a girl, six years old.

If convicted, Spainhower could be sentenced to up to 60 years in prison. Spainhower was sentenced in 1978 to four to six years in prison after four young girls were molested.

Assistant State's Attorney Randy Massey's only connection with the case is his role as prosecutor.

The investigation of Spainhower was conducted by Madison police and the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

Spainhower initially was taken into custody in the current case on July 21. Formally charged and arrested July 24, he was transported to the Madison County jail.

U.S. EPA approves measures to control lead in Granite City

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) Region V officials have announced that the agency is approving the State of Illinois plan to control airborne lead pollution in Granite City. The plan for the rest of the state was approved in 1982.

The U.S. EPA has set the lead standard at 1.5 micrograms of lead per cubic meter of air, averaged over 3 months. Lead is regulated because it can have severe health effects, particularly in children. Studies say it can lower children's IQ scores, decrease cognitive ability and damage the kidneys, the liver and the reproductive system. It also interferes with the production of blood.

Illinois reviewed air quality and emissions data, did air quality modeling and developed a control strategy to prepare this plan. The plan for Granite City had been delayed because there were no enforcement mechanisms. The plan now includes a set of consent decrees between the state and industrial sources of lead pollution.

The affected companies are the St. Louis Lead Recyclers and Tri-City Trucking Inc. The companies agreed in the consent decrees to limit lead pollution through a variety of industrial measures, including dust control plans.

U.S. EPA Regional Administrator Valdas V. Adamkus said: "The plan is a good one which will protect the environment and the health of the people of Granite City."

Decision soon on Davis' status

A decision may be made Tuesday, Aug. 7, by the Granite City Board of Education on a proposal submitted to it Monday night on behalf of B. J. Davis, who was dismissed June 29 as superintendent of schools.

A hearing attended by Davis and his attorney, Robert Wells, began July 23 and was completed July 30.

The board is expected to decide next week whether to accept the proposal, and an effort will be made to have all seven members in attendance. Only five members were present Monday night—President David Partney, Secretary Thomas Mlosky, Monroe Worthen, Dewey Melton and Alan Crider.

Wells said after the hearing that he had sought amplification of the six counts that were listed in the board's notice of intent to not renew Davis' contract. The former superintendent had held the district's top administrative position since succeeding Russell D. Johnson, who died in 1966.

The attorney said general statements but no specific allegations have been made by the board.

Although somewhat handicapped in replying, due to the absence of specifics, Wells said, the superintendent submitted a detailed review of his actions and programs—reflecting loyalty to and implementation of board decisions.

"We presented a proposal which we feel would serve the best interests of both Mr. Davis and the school district," Wells told newsmen outside the meeting room.

No decision has been made as yet on whether Davis will teach or have no duties in 1984-85. Either role has been offered by the board.

Davis has stressed his continuing intent to take no action harmful to School District Nine.

Asked whether the attorney has ruled out legal action in considering the various courses of action that are open to Davis, Wells said it has not been ruled out.

Although Davis referred questions

CAR IS DAMAGED
Cheryl Turner of 806 Kirkpatrick Homes told police during the weekend that when she asked an acquaintance to move her car, he drove away with it. The car was found at 2514 Hodges Ave., with four flat tires. A resident of the home denied any knowledge of the vehicle.

DECEPTION IS ALLEGED
Granite City police at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday booked Michael A. Brown, 22, of 2628 E. 26th St. on a charge of deceptive financial practice occurring about July 18.

PROPERTY IS DAMAGED
Robert Scaturro, owner of property at 1520 Seventh St., Madison, told police last week that someone caused more than $300 damage to his property. Damaged was a server tray. Kitchen cabinets had been pulled away from their frames and double door had been kicked in.

TRAILER TIRE DAMAGED
Clarence Hai of 2309 Lynch Ave., told police during the weekend that someone punctured the left rear tire of his trailer.

BOWS, RINGS TAKEN

Richard Knipple, owner of Galaxy Pawn Shops, 1826 State St., told police during the weekend that, someone broke into his pawn shop and took two hunting bows and 25 gold dinner rings. Entry was gained by forcing open the front door. The property taken is valued at $1,108.

POLICE FILE DUI CHARGE

Kathryn Jones, 63, of 56 Villa Drive was arrested in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue at 9:50 p.m. Tuesday on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. She was released upon posting her driver license and $102 bail.

Gillett Group acquires Post Corp.

Gillett Group, Inc., said yesterday it has completed its previously announced acquisition of Post Corporation for $65 per share cash. The effective date was Aug. 1.

Post Corp., headquartered in Appleton, Wis., owns and operates newspapers, television and radio stations, and commercial printing plants in nine states. Its newspapers include the Press-Record and the Collinsville Herald.

GILLETT GROUP, Inc. is a privately-held company whose controlling shareholder and chairman is George N. Gillett Jr.

Gillett, headquartered in Nashville, Tenn., owns and operates businesses in television broadcasting, meat packing and food processing, and other related businesses. Principal properties are WSMV-TV in Nashville and Packerland Packing Company in Green Bay, Wis.

Chairman Gillett announced that David L. Nelson, formerly executive vice president of Post Corp., has entered into a consultancy agreement with Gillett Group, Inc.

EDWARD W. KARRELS, president of Gillett Group, Inc., was named president of Post Corp.

Lawrence Busse, formerly a divisional general manager of Post Corp., was named executive vice president of broadcasting. Gerald Gordon, also formerly a divisional general manager of Post Corp., was named executive vice president of printing and publishing.

Gillett said that David A. Ramon and Lawrence D. Haugen, both officers of Gillett Group, Inc., were named executive vice president administration and executive vice president, finance, respectively.

ACQUISITION PLANS were announced to months ago. Transfer of Post's broadcasting licenses was approved in June 1983 by the Federal Communications Commission.

The Granite City Press-Record, founded in 1963, was purchased by Post Corp. in 1970 from C.E. Town and his family.

Paul G. Halbert is general manager of the Press-Record and the Herald. Both are published each Monday and Thursday. Gary R. Schneider is editor of the Press-Record and Judy Taplin is editor of the Herald.

ST. LOUIS MAN CHARGED WITH DRIVING OFFENSES

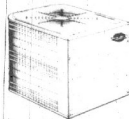

Hal Edward Headrick, 25, of St. Louis, was charged by Venice police at 9:25 p.m. Monday with driving under the influence of alcohol, reckless driving and speeding after police observed his vehicle coming out of the American Legion Parking lot on Broadway.

Police said that Headrick's vehicle spun around in several circles on Broadway, taking up both lanes of eastbound traffic. He allegedly crossed over into the center west-bound lane at one point. Police then observed him swerving from the right eastbound lane to the left east-bound lane.

WHEELER AND DEALER is the name of the Granite City game to be available for sale this fall by the now-organizing Gateway BPW. The game, similar to monopoly, has blocks around the board that are offered for sale to Granite City businesses as a civic project. The completed game will be sold in area stores in time for Christmas. Enjoying the game, left to right, are Sandy Pence, circuit court bailiff, Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, Mayor Paul Schuler; City Treasurer Nick Petrillo and Alderman Jake Varadani. Standing are BPW representatives Donna Kimbro, left, and Barbara Hodges examining the game to the officials. Ollie Derr, another BPW representative, also was present, but is not visible in this photo.

New winner gets $3.8 million; '83-84 big year for lotto, state

The grand prize winner of the latest lotto identified herself to Illinois State Lottery officials Tuesday. She is Emma Lois May of Chicago's south side.

She will receive an annuity worth $3,867,880, payable at the rate of $193,394 per year for 20 years.

The winning numbers were 04, 12, 21, 36, 42 and 43.

There were 150 people who correctly matched four of six winning numbers and each will receive third prizes of $90.50.

This week's guaranteed grand prize for a single winner is $3.5 million. Multiple winners would share the grand prize pool.

Gross sales for fiscal year 1984, which ended June 30, reached $911,870,635, an increase of 77.1 percent over the previous year's $514,790,225. Gov. James R. Thompson said Monday.

"The lottery is now the fourth largest state source of revenue for general revenue funds, providing support for programs that benefit millions of Illinois citizens, including education, health, human service, public protection and justice, and natural resources and recreation," the governor said.

Thompson said the lottery's increased sales allowed education and other human services programs throughout Illinois to receive $337.1 million in support from lottery profits during fiscal 1984, up 75.5 percent or $162.2 million.

He added that the lottery's players, agents and game vendors also benefited.

"Lottery players collected $432.8 million in prizes, and the agents—more than 7,000 small business people in the state—and vendors of lottery games earned $59.2 million in 1984."

Michael J. Jones, lottery superintendent, said prizes increased 87 percent over the previous year, while commissions to agents and vendors rose 77 percent.

The $337.1 million in profits in fiscal 1984 were almost half of the total combined profits of the lottery in its first nine years of operation.

Jones noted that the lottery reached two milestones during 1984: total gross revenue since the lottery began in mid-1974 exceeded the $2 billion mark, reaching $2.66 billion by year-end, while total profits since mid-1974 exceeded the $1 billion level, reaching $1.1 billion by June 30, 1984.

Lottery agents earned about $45.6 million in the last fiscal year. Agents receive five percent of their lottery ticket sales, plus a bonus of one percent of any prize worth at least $1,000 won by a ticket they sold.

These bonuses have become increasingly important to agents with the addition of lotto, which has meant large prizes for many players.

At a hearing in Granite City last week, Circuit Judge George Moran Jr. assessed a $50 fine against William Barber, 22, for property damage earlier that day at 3612 Kirkpatrick Homes. Furniture was overturned, a wall area was damaged and two windows were broken. Barber was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for cuts on both forearms.

year, lotto sales were about 81 percent of those of the daily game currently. The daily game was introduced in 1980.

Instant game sales were up 24.2 percent, to $196.4 million, while pick-4 sales increased 7.3 percent to $49.3 million.

In fiscal 1984, the lottery created 67 millionaires, 25 more than were created in the previous nine years of lottery history. The total now exceeds 110.

Jones attributed the increased popularity of Illinois State Lottery games to widespread acceptance of aggressive and creative marketing programs which were put into place almost three years ago.

Another factor in the lottery's continuing success, Jones said, was the rapid broadening of the demographic base of lottery players due to introduction of the lotto game.

"Because of its large prizes, lotto appeals to people in all geographic areas of Illinois and at all economic levels."

The largest increases in lottery terminals and in lottery sales in general have been in areas outside of Cook County.

New Talbot program can help drivers who drink

Drivers who are under the influence of alcohol and drugs are responsible for automobile accidents which claim the lives of nearly 26,000 people each year across the nation. Thousands of others are injured or otherwise affected by the drinking or using driver. Everyone who has a problem with alcohol or drug dependency may be arrested someday for DUI (driving under the influence).

Being arrested for DUI is a serious matter, but thanks to a new program being offered through Talbot Hall at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, individuals who are arrested for DUI can learn more about the general problems involved and if a chemical dependency problem is affecting someone's life, the Talbot Hall program can show that person how to get help.

Talbot Hall's DUI Program teaches its participants about alcohol and other chemicals, and their effects on the body and on driving. The goals of the program are to provide education and attitude training designed to prevent further occurrences of alcohol and chemical-related traffic problems, to provide individuals with the opportunity to make informed choices regarding drinking and driving, and to channel alcoholic and chemically dependent persons into appropriate treatment programs.

Topics covered in the classes include:

- The effects of alcohol and chemicals on the body.
- The effects of alcohol and chemicals on the brain and on human behavior.
- The effects of alcohol on driving abilities.

- Some information about basic driving skills.
- Basic information about alcoholism and chemical dependency.

- Alternatives to drinking and driving.
- Treatment resources available.

Each participant is required to complete a series of three class sessions. Before attending a class session, each participant must complete an interview with a counselor. Following completion of all class requirements, a final interview must be completed individually with a counselor. The Talbot Hall staff works as a team to evaluate each participant's progress and needs as he or she progresses through the program.

The Talbot Hall team collects data on participants and the staff develops an individual profile of each participant and the staff develops an individual profile of each participant's alcohol history, attitudes, behaviors and personality characteristics. These profiles form the basis for the staff's recommendations, which are forwarded to the state's attorney's office.

A final evaluation and recommendation report will be submitted to all legal parties involved. The findings of the report will be documented in detail and thoroughly explained.

DUI classes are conducted weekly, Tuesdays through Thursdays, from 6:30 to 10 p.m. at Talbot Hall Chemical Dependency Unit in St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave. For more information, interested persons may call Scott Baer at 798-3069.

DUI AND BEER ALLEGATIONS

Fred Wicker, 35, East Alton, was arrested last week on Edwardsville Road for transporting beer, driving while under the influence of alcohol and speeding. James Goodson, 20, Wood River, Andrew Kern, 33, East Alton, and Jeffrey Copeland, 23, Alton, were booked by Granite City police for possessing beer.

CAR BATTERY TAKEN

Alberta Jackson of 1117 Douglas St., Venice, told Madison police earlier this week that someone removed the battery from her car while she was attending church services at 921 Bissell St.

Loans offered to help small businesses reduce energy use

Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) Director Michael T. Woelffer has announced that $500,000 will be available through the Energy Conservation Program for Small Business to help that state's small businesses meet their energy costs.

More than 10 percent of a recently surveyed group of Illinois' small businesses reported that higher energy costs had forced them to lay off employees and over half said they needed energy conservation improvements but could not afford to do the work. That's when we decided to step in and help with these costs," said Woelffer.

The state's Energy Conservation Program for Small Business will be funded with Illinois' portion of the "oil overcharge" settlement between the federal government and major oil companies. It will be jointly administered by DCCA and the Illinois Small Business Growth Corporation (ISBGC).

This program consists of two stages. The first element is a technical assistance program wherein DCCA will offer free, non-technical, walk-through energy audits. More than 275 small businesses have already received such an audit which will result in savings of nearly $1 million in energy costs.

The second phase of the program is an energy conservation loan program through the state and local lenders. The ISBGC can lend up to 40 percent of the loan principal interest free with a ceiling of $6,000. The local lender provides the remaining 60 percent at conventional rates. These business energy improvement loans are repayable within five years.

The loans are available to small businesses with assets under $6 million. Loan applicants must show the estimated energy savings resulting from the proposed improvements.

Loans can be used to fund a variety of energy conservation projects, such as more efficient heating or air conditioning systems, thermostatic controls or other measures that will result in long-term savings for the business. Through last year's program, 91 loans were issued in the amount of over $420,000 interest free. This resulted in project improvement costs totaling more than $1.2 million, said Woelffer.

"Our small businesses need all the assistance they can get in these days of rising energy costs. We feel this innovative program is an additional way the state can help ease their burdens," Woelffer added.

For more information on the Energy Conservation Program for Small Business, interested persons may contact: Jeff Mitchell at 1-800-232-2923 or DCCA's marketing representatives at: Springfield, 1-217-782-1450; Rockford, 1-815-987-7722; Marion, 1-997-4371 extension 305; East St. Louis, 875-9300 extension 379 or Belleville, 1-235-8566.

GC budget is reconsidered and approved

By SUSAN SIGNA-GO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

In a special meeting Monday night, the Granite City Council approved the 1984-85 budget by an 11-3 vote. The budget approved was the same appropriation ordinance that was turned down by council members last Friday night.

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, who originally voted against the budget, motioned for the reconsideration. "I'm making this motion in an attempt to get it (the budget) off the ground and back on the floor," he said. "But I think there is a lot of room for discussion."

ALTHOUGH THERE was some discussion on the budget, there were no amendments made. Aldermen Casimir Skubish (First Ward) and Woodrow "Woody" Moad (Sixth Ward) went on record as saying they were not pleased with the budget, but that they would vote in favor of it.

"I don't agree with some of the items on the budget, but I'm going to yield to my fellow aldermen and vote for the budget," said Moad. "I just hope we can keep the tax levy down. There are some things that I don't like in the budget, but some things will do wonders for the city."

ALDERMAN SKUBISH said he feels the city should devise some type of plan that will keep the city's cash flow even. He said that, although there is a surplus of funds projected in the new budget, the late

Services conducted for Robert H. Karandjef

The Rev. Richard Hunt conducted funeral services at 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 31, at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue. Robert H. Karandjef, 61, of 22 Camelot, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

He died of an apparent gunshot wound and was pronounced dead at his home on Monday, July 30, 1984, at 8:40 a.m. by Randall Irwin, Madison County deputy coroner.

Family members said Mr. Karandjef suffered from multiple sclerosis many years, since he was in the military and had been undergoing treatment, including visits to the Mayo Clinic.

Born in Granite City and a longtime resident here, Mr. Karandjef was general manager of Sunset Hill Cemetery in Edwardsville Township.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Irma D. Karandjef; two sons, Robert Karandjef of Granite City and Philip Karandjef of Cary, Texas; one daughter, Mrs. Karen Carrier of Germantown, Md.; his father, Henry Karandjef of Edwardsville; two brothers, Ernest Karandjef Sr., Edwardsville, and Harold Karandjef of Orlando, Fla., and three grandchildren.

Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township. Visitation was at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave. Memorials are requested for the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation.

Funeral rites for Julian Pastain, 83

Funeral services were conducted at 9 a.m. Monday, July 30, at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church for Julian Pastain, 83, of Granite City.

He died 9:45 a.m. Friday, July 27, 1984, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A 40-year resident, Mr. Pastain was born in Rumania. He worked at Laclede Steel for many years and retired there in 1967 as a crane operator.

Mr. Pastain was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and also held membership in Laclede Steel Credit Union.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary (Podnar) Pastain, two daughters, Mrs. Al (Mildred) Herzog of Troy, Ill., and Mrs. Richard (Jeanette) Loyet of Granite City, and a sister, Flora Jonka, all of Madison; nine grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

tax receipts this year could force the city to borrow money. "I don't want to vote against the budget, but I think we need some guidelines for spending," he said.

Mayor Paul Schuler reminded the aldermen that they are the ones who establish the tax rate and determine what is spent in the city. "It will take eight aldermen or seven aldermen and the mayor to determine what is spent," he said.

Afterwards, a role call vote was taken. Voting in favor of the budget were Aldermen Everett Morlen (First Ward), Skubish, Whitmer, Fred "Pat" Schuman (Second Ward), Carl Kittel and Paul Fisk (Third Ward), Phillip Miller (Fourth Ward), Woodrow "Woody" Moad and Stephen Saltich (Sixth), and Michael Modrusic and Paul Ray Bowler (Seventh).

VOTING AGAINST the budget were Aldermen Lloyd Bailey and Jake Varaden (Fifth Ward) and Sharon Perjak (Fourth Ward).

After the meeting Monday, Alderman Jake Varaden said he voted against the budget because he feels some of the added expenditures are unnecessary. He said he would have been in favor of taking the actual budget from last year ($8.3 million) and adding $200,000 for sewer repairs, $50,000 for the employee bonus package and $50,000 for the reassessment of Granite City Steel.

"I think some of the increases in the budget could have been left out," he said. "I think it would represent a fair to give the departments the same amount they had last year, plus add in the increases I outlined."

ALDERMAN PERJAK said she also would have been in favor of the plan outlined by Varaden. "Several of us got together and decided we would go for the budget if these were the only areas increased," she said. She said that nearly every department increased every line item from last year and that they also included anywhere from $7,000 to $10,000 in a contingency fund for their department. "It is just really inflated," she said.

"We haven't really shown a recovery in this city until this year and I think we're spending too fast."

SHE ALSO SAID she feels the discussion on the budget had been cut off by the mayor and that it had not been discussed properly.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey said he also feels some of the increases in the budget are unwarranted. He also said, however, that one of the reasons he voted against the budget was because his committee had been bypassed during the discussion on roofing bids.

Bailey said that he had obtained several bids for roof repairs at the street department but he feels the council did not believe he had done so. He said council action last week to allow Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield to obtain prices for the roof work was "not right."

HE SAID the action of the council was the "major reason" why he had voted against the budget.

The $9.7 million budget represents an increase of $1.4 million over last year's actual budget.

Major increases include a $50,000 bonus package for employees. This represents a bonus of $1,500 for each city employee, since they have not had raises for the past three years.

MAYOR SCHULER has pledged that the city's levy appropriation should not rise, despite the increases, which would mean no tax increases for Granite City residents.

Arrested as Florida probation order violator

Howard William Richter, 28, of Apartment 7 at 1700 Delmar Ave., was arrested there by Granite City police at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday on a Sarasota, Fla., judicial order alleging that he violated probation requirements.

The Sept. 23, 1983, order by Judge Owens asserted that Richter, in a case related to burglary and felony theft, Florida authorities will seek extradition.

Donald R. Caughran, 21, of 2405 Iowa St., was served a warrant, alleging for criminal damage to property during the weekend Granite City police served the warrant.

Jack Messick of 2141 Cleveland Blvd., told police during the weekend, that someone threw bricks through both his living room and dining room windows.

THE SCOPE of the plant's voluntary contributions to governmental bodies and programs has expanded in 1983 and 1984. Increased emphasis has been placed on the plant being regarded as a helpful "good citizen."

Rather than phasing out and shutting down the local plant, as some steel companies have done in other cities, National Steel has committed itself to continued operation of the Granite City, Midwest (Chicago area) and Great Lakes (Detroit area) divisions. Its Weirton, W. Va., steel division was sold and is being successfully operated by the employees there.

In meeting its survival and profitability goals, the National Steel group has concentrated on cost containment and quality enhancement.

THE LINK with Nippon Kokan—expected to be completed in the third quarter of 1984—is seen as a crucial boost to efficiency and technological breakthroughs at Granite City Steel during a time when many major steel producers are still experiencing financial losses.

Led by Granite City Steel and National Steel, some of America's steelmakers have become profitable after more than two years of losses.

But with prices "soft" and with much below-cost foreign steel being imported, the degree of domestic steel profits is described as too small to be attractive to investors.

for primary treatment of effluent. At that time, the state told MESED that it could either build a new plant with primary and secondary sewage treatment at a cost of $11.2 million or join a regional system that would be serviced by the Granite City sewage treatment facility at a cost of $5.5 million, with 25 percent of the cost borne by MESED and 75 percent coming from grants. MESED has opted for the latter alternative.

Greathouse said he feels a rate increase is the more appealing way to raise money. "We can be chickens and wait two years and float $1.5 million in revenue bonds, but that would cost us $180,000 a year in interest alone."

buildings in detail will be sought. For many years, the assessments were normally agreed upon, with little or no direct viewing by assessors and assessment review authorities.

Pres. Partney said the steelmaker utilized one appraisal firm in submitting its original assessment objection and currently is working with a second company in seeking to substantiate its belief that the valuation should be reduced sharply.

GOVERNMENT officials here will fight Granite City Steel's appeal for two reasons.

1. The assessment is the largest in the tax base and is counted on to help county, drainage and other expenses.

2. They think the plant is worth not only as much as it is assessed, but even more.

THEY SAY THEY TRIED to avoid the clash but at this point have no choice, and no more time for delay.

After an apparent compromise collapsed, GC Steel stopped proposing a series of yearly reductions and decided to seek the full desired reduction now.

Plant officials have said their protest is the wish of their corporation and that the decrease sought would conform to the assessment level at other steel mills in the nation.

At the same time, they have commented many times that they do not wish to harm local governments.

reason for the rate increase. He said the increase would raise the $1.5 million the department needs to tie into a regional treatment system in two years. The additional $4 million cost of such a move would come from a state grant.

For Summers, Champ's more than a nickname

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

When the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals returned from a west coast excursion recently, following them back to St. Louis were the San Diego Padres.

A member of the Western Division leading Padres is former Granite City and Madison High School graduate John J. "Champ" Summers Jr.

At 36, Summers doesn't see the action that he once did, but that suits him fine and he talked frankly about himself, his career and baseball in general.

Atop the National League West by more than eight games, the Padres and Summers looked like winners. This particular night, the first of a four-game series with the Cardinals, the Padres overpowered the Redbirds 4-1.

After the game, Summers sat in the visiting team's clubhouse, deep beneath Busch Stadium, laughing and joking like winners so often do in the familiarity of the clubhouse.

"Hey how about it. Didn't I do great?" Summers said, somewhat satirically. "We were so good tonight that these guys didn't even need me."

Summers said directing his comments at teammate "Downtown" Bobby Brown, a Padre's outfielder.

Summers and Brown exchanged banterful jabs before Summers' full attention was in the interview.

"Champ?" Summers said. "It's my father's nickname as well," he said working over an Boston's Carl Yastrzemski — he's currently in his ninth season. But, the path Summers took to reach the Majors is perhaps just as remarkable.

A 1965 graduate of Madison High, the brawny, muscular Summers lettered 14 times in various sports while at Trojan.

So, what's so amazing about that?

Well, not one of those letters came in baseball.

In fact, outside of Little League ball, which he played until he was 13, Summers didn't play baseball until his senior year at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

How then does a guy who never played high school baseball and just one year of college baseball break into the caste system of Major League Baseball.

"I don't know Summers said when asked I don't know I worked hard and I guess I was lucky."

Summers' lucky streak began in 1972 when, a senior at SIUE, he met then Cougar baseball Coach Rory Lee.

Although in those early days even Lee was skeptical of the chances a first-year senior would Disillusioned after sitting on the bench for about a fourth of the season, Summers got his chance in the final inning of a game that the Cougars were losing.

Trailing by a run with runners at second and third, Summers recalled the play that caused Lee to give him a second look.

"We were playing in Mobile, Ala.,

"I'm a good pinch hitter, and I'm an asset to this ball club doing what I'm doing. I can make things happen and I like my situation here."

Champ Summers

and there must've been one out. We had two guys on, at second and third.

I was called to hit. I felt like it was our last chance," Summers said.

"I hit a ball to deep center field. It was one of those fields without an outfield fence," he said reminiscing.

"The center fielder was so deep that after he caught the ball both men — including the one at second — had time enough to tag up and score before the throw reached the infield. We won the game."

Ever since, Coach Lee has been one of my biggest supporters. He and Al Barnes," Summers said.

The "Al Barnes" Summers referred to is former SIUE Sports Information Director and now Press-Record sports reporter Alvin Barnes.

Between Coach Lee and Al they saw that I made it into the "big leagues."

Discussing it further, Summers said, "It was actually Barnes who convinced him to try out for the Cougar baseball team."

Summers said he was playing fast-pitch softball in Wilson Park one night after collecting a few homers during a previous game. According to Summers, Barnes, who saw the game, approached him and asked if he could have the same kind of luck with a baseball.

After an affirmed reply, Barnes convinced Summers to try out for the Cougar baseball team.

"Al is and always has been one of my biggest supporters," Summers said. "Heck, I was always in the paper, no matter what I did. All I had to do at SIU, all I had to do was drop my books in the lawn and Al had it in the paper."

Following a banner season with SIUE in '72, Summers found his way to three pro farm league teams before breaking into the Majors in 1974 with the already two-time World Champion Oakland A's.

Summers was part of that World Series team in 1974 for two months before they sent him back to the Minor Leagues, just shortly before the Series.

"No, I didn't get a World Series ring. Heck, I wasn't with them for the whole season. It doesn't bother me, though. It's just the way it is. That's baseball. Sometimes it can be a cruel game," Summers said.

"I'll get my ring this year though."

After spending two years with Charlie Finley and the Oakland A's, Summers signed with the Chicago Cubs. He spent two years, 1975 and 1976, with the Cubs before becoming a member of the Sparky Anderson's Cincinnati Reds in 1977.

For three years, Summers belonged to the Reds. His first season with the Cincy he batted a lowly .171. In 1978, he was sent to the Reds' Indianapolis farm league where he upped his average to .368 before re-joining the parent club later that year.

For the first half of the '79 season, Summers batted .296 with the Reds before being traded to the Detroit Tigers.

It was Summers' tenure with the Tigers which he now calls his best days in the Major League. After joining the recently reshuffled Tigers — which included the naming of Sparky Anderson as coach — Summers found his niche with the Motor City Maulers.

"My best days were with Detroit," Summers said. "Those three years — '79, '80 and '81 — was when I was at the top of my game."

"Heck, in 1981 for awhile I was batting .430 and made the cover of the Sporting News," Summers said. "Detroit is great. Its fans are great and Sparky Anderson is one of the best coaches ever," Summers said.

Now three years later, Summers is in another league and half a country away from Detroit, but that doesn't lessen his good will and love for the Tigers and Anderson.

"I'm excited about Detroit, and I'm happy for them and the kind of season they're having," Summers said. "I hope they make it to the World Series. I want to play Detroit in the World Series. I wish that they ear of battered corn.

"My dad's John J. Sr. He was a boxer — ship champion — on the USS Arizona during World War I," Summers said, now taking a bite of a roast beef sandwich.

"When I was born I must've been all beat up. My dad said I looked like I went 10 rounds with Joe Louis. So, he stuck it on me at birth," Summers said of his nickname.

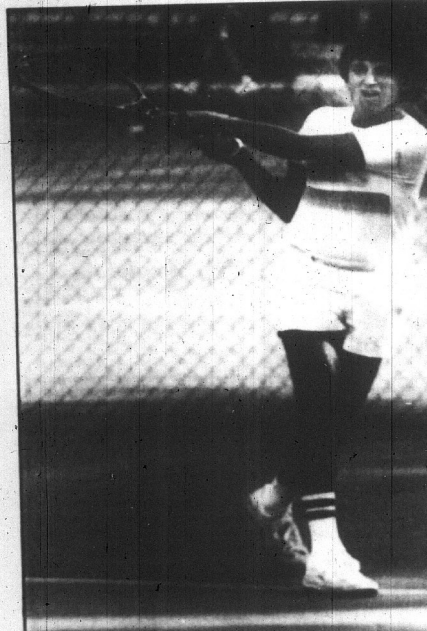

Summers' major league career doesn't span four decades like have of breaking into the lineup.

"Some friends persuaded me to go out for baseball my senior year," Summers said. "When I showed up for the first practice, Coach Lee didn't take me serious. He took me to the side and said, 'Hey, there's no room, and I've had these guys for three years. Champ, I haven't even seen you play.'" Summers said.

quoting Lee. "All I asked him for was a chance to play," Summers said.

would win the American League.

"I like Sparky and wish him and his team well. In fact, he (Anderson) predicted in 1979, in five years — that Detroit would be in the World Series. He said that, and I heard him say that."

And sure enough, they're going that direction and so are we. It just so happens that now I'm on the other team," Summers said.

In the Padre's recent series with the Redbirds, Summers didn't play. In fact, last year as a member of the San Francisco Giants, Summers saw action in just 29 games. This year, his total is 21 games. One, which came on April 10 in San Diego against the Cardinals.

In this particular game, the Padres were trailing the Cardinals 3-1 in the seventh inning when Summers entered the game as a pinch hitter with the bases loaded.

Cardinal hurler Bob Forsch reeled back and buried a fastball to Summers who obliged by knocking the ball out of Jack Murphy Stadium for a grand slam while simultaneously giving the Padres a 5-3 lead. San Diego went on to win the game 7-3. It was Summers' first career grand slam.

Once an outfielder and sometimes a first baseman for five Major League teams, Summers is honest enough with himself to realize that his chances of doing much more than pinch hitting are remote.

"Baseball is full of kids today," Summers said. "Heck, our whole outfield is 23 years old. And, we got Steve Garvey, a sure Hall of Famer, at first base. So, there's no chance there either."

"I'm a good pinch hitter, and I'm an asset to the ball club doing what I'm doing. I can make things happen and I like my situation here."

"If anything, I'll (pinch hitting) keep me in the game a lot longer," Summers said. "If I played every day I might hit .250 and probably not steal any bases. You can be out of this game nowadays if that's all you can do," Summers said. "Besides, my legs and arm probably couldn't stand the rigors of day-in and day-out play."

"It doesn't bother me if I don't get in to play. As a pinch hitter, I get into the game that means we're in trouble. I'd rather not see that. I don't care if I ever play."

Summers is kidding of course, but he does see the end of his playing career approaching. One of his first roommates in the Major Leagues, Reggie Jackson, has already hinted of retiring.

"I'm going to keep playing as long as I can. Doctors tell me I may be able to go another three or five years. I'd like to play until I'm 41."

Then what? "I'm just going to have fun," Summers said. "That or I'll come back to SIU and coach their baseball program," Summers said in a half serious way.

"I've thought about that. That's of course if the position is open and they'll have me."

Paddlers' Seek 5th Consecutive Title 'Anxious' swimmers await SWISA

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Shooting for their fifth straight Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association Championship, Paddlers' Swim Club will take the pool Saturday facing its toughest competition it has seen in recent years.

This is the first time they (Paddlers) have gone into the meet with a loss," said Paddlers' swim coach Celeste Sonnenberg, whose team was defeated earlier in the season by a tough Summer Haven squad.

I think they're more worried this time than they have ever been before. They know which teams have the good swimmers and how well they will have to do to win."

SINCE meeting Summer Haven June 26, Sonnenberg says her swimmers' times have definitely improved and she is anxious to see how they will compare against them now.

Although Paddlers' toughest competition should come from Summer Haven, Sonnenberg believes Montclair of Edwardsville also presents a definite threat to big team. Paddlers defeated Montclair by just five points 315-310 on July 17.

A win by the 15-18 girls relay team in the final event proved to be the winning margin.

Coach Sonnenberg feels the relay teams will again have to do well if Paddlers is to retain their SWISA crown.

"FOR US to win, our relay teams are going to have to do well, but where they will place is hard to tell," said Sonnenberg. "Some of our relay teams haven't been beaten all season. But when you swim against a team during the season, sometimes they have kids on vacation or missing so it's hard to say."

Sonnenberg also added that Paddlers would need at least one and hopefully two swimmers in the finals from each event. The finals take the top six out of 14 in each event.

Everyone who qualifies for the finals receives points for their team.

THIS WEEK Paddlers' are showing down their practice schedule as they prepare for Saturday's championship.

"What we are doing this week is peaking them. We're decreasing yardage and working on our starts and turns. They're getting lots of rest," said Sonnenberg. "These practices are really easier compared to what they are used to."

Sonnenberg hopes to repeat last Saturday's victory by the Paddlers' diving team. She also feels that the victory by the diving team may help her team as it heads into the championships.

"I'm glad they won," said Sonnenberg. "They went in as underdogs too. So I think it showed my team that it could be done."

"They (the swimmers) all came in Monday and wanted to know how the divers had done. There's a lot of pride here. They want both teams to do well."

Saturday's championships, which begin at 8:30 a.m., will be held at Paddlers'.

Tuesday Night Blue Division late rally dooms Reds in Inter-City All-Star game

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — Brooklyn Robin's coach Clyde Thomas lost his first game of the season in Inter-City League play Tuesday night. However, it wasn't Thomas' Robins who lost the game, but rather the Red Division All-Stars of the Inter-City League for which Thomas served as head coach.

The Red Division team, which was highly favored going into the game, consisted of players from four teams including the top two teams in the league, the Brooklyn Robins and Granite City's McDonalds. The other two teams represented on the Red Squad were the East Alton Royals and the Cahokia Braves.

DESPITE having several of the area's top players, the Red Division was unable to hold on to a four run lead and dropped the game 8-7 in the bottom of the ninth.

The Blue Division, which consisted of players from the Granite City Chiefs, the O'Fallon Merchants, the Maryville Red Sox and the Metro Wildcats, scored five runs in the bottom of the ninth inning to take the victory.

Granite City's Dominic Griffin delivered the big blow for the Blue Squad as he launched a two-run single that tied the game at seven. Tim Abernathy of O'Fallon got the game winning RBI as he sent a sacrifice fly into right to score Maryville's Jack Graham.

WALKS TO Granite City's Rob Ficker and Milt Roe got the inning started for the Blue division. An error by the Red team's shortstop, Tom Robien allowed a run to score and Jim Engelage to reach base safely.

Singles by Mike Harwood and Graham pulled the Blue squad to win with his single.

O'Fallon's Brian Steinfield got the win for the Red Division as he pitched the final four innings. East Alton's John Streeter took the loss for the Blue Division.

McDonald's Mike Zukas started the game for the Blue division and went three innings allowing just one run.

"I KNEW if we could keep them close Brian would come in and nail it down," said Red Division Coach Ed Bugger. "I really didn't expect to get five runs, but the guys came through. They were up and they wanted to win badly."

Although the Blue Division was the first to score as they took a 1-0 lead in the third, the Red Division dominated throughout the game. In the top of the fourth, three runs put the Red team on top 3-1.

The Red Division continued to score as they added two runs in the fifth and single tallies in the sixth and ninth.

The Blue Squad chalked up single runs in the fourth and seventh before their five-run explosion in the ninth inning.

ALTHOUGH Coach Thomas of the Red Division said he did not expect such a comeback from the blue squad, he was happy that the game turned out to be as close as it did.

"It was a good ballgame. I think everyone who saw it enjoyed themselves," said Thomas.

"When you come to a game like this naturally you want to win, but you also want to let everyone play. The defense broke down in the late innings and made some costly errors. That's what really hurt," Thomas added.

One dark spot for Granite City fans came in the fifth inning when McDonald's Jeff Parker, who had beaten out an infield single, left the game with a pulled hamstring.

It is unknown whether Parker will be available Saturday when McDonalds will meet the Brooklyn Robins. The game is scheduled for 1 p.m. at Wilson Park.

IC ALL-STARS. Nine team members from Granite City's two representing teams in the Inter-City Baseball League teams, McDonald's and the Chiefs, competed in Tuesday night's All-Star game in Cahokia. Representing both McDonald's in the game were Jeff Parker, Lance Parker, Steve Ficker and Mike Zukas. Ray Harris, of McDonald's, was one of the coaches. Representing the Granite City Chiefs in the game were Darrell Elmore, Dominic Griffin, Milt Roe, Dennis Gurkin and Rich Takmajian. Dennis Gurkin Sr. was also a coach.

Outdoors New Ducks Unlimited chapter plans fund-raising banquet on Sept. 13

According to Tony J. Zedolek, chairman of the newly organized Granite City Ducks Unlimited committee, persons from Granite City and surrounding areas interested in participating in a practical conservation program will be given an opportunity to do so on this fall.

As a local representative for the international waterfowl conservation organization Zedolek said, "When it comes to conservation, there are a lot of good people out there with good intentions who would really like to make a positive difference in how wildlife is perpetuated on this continent, but just don't know how to go about it."

Zedolek went on to say that he volunteered to help raise funds for Ducks Unlimited because of the organization's impressive habitat track record. Since 1957, Zedolek said that this private, nonprofit organization has constructed more than 2,100 wetland projects throughout Canada — a country where over 70 percent of North America's ducks and geese are produced and where Federal Duck Stamp dollars can't be spent. As a result, Ducks Unlimited has reserved more than 3 million habitat acres and created more than 13,000 miles of crucial nesting shoreline for the waterfowl.

Concluding his remarks about the importance of DU's conservation effort Zedolek stated, "Our committee will soon be calling on conservation-minded individuals within the community to help support our DU fund-raising banquet scheduled for Sept. 13 at the Granite City Knights of Columbus Hall. We're going to have a lot of good food, good prizes and good fun for everyone, and those who attend can rest assured the dollars we raise are going to a very good cause."

During the fund-raising banquet there will be an auction of valuable art prints by famous wildlife artists, such as John Eberhardt, Lynn R. Kaatz and George C. Kieffer's "Illinois Duck Stamp."

Tickets for the banquet are available at Lane's Archery, 1837 Delmar or from Vernon Lockridge at National Auto Parts, 19th and Madison Avenue or from Zedolek.

Persons seeking further information about the banquet or Ducks Unlimited may contact Zedolek at 877-2458.

Guelker to lead two coaches' courses

Bob Guelker, soccer coach of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and State Director of Coaching for the Missouri Senior Soccer Association, has announced that two coaching courses will be held in August that will lead to a state coaching license.

The "P" course is a nine hour course held on Friday evening, Saturday morning, and Saturday afternoon and designed for youth team and beginning coaches.

The locations and dates of the "P" courses are: Aug. 10-11 at St. Ferdinand's School in Florissant and Aug. 17-18 at Washington University. Cost is $15.

For more information and application write: Bob Guelker, professor, Box 67A, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Edwardsville, Illinois 62026-1001.

GCCHS golfers begin Aug. 20

Russ Chappell, Granite City High School's golf coach, has slated Monday, Aug. 20, as the day for his team's first practice.

Chappell said returning lettermen and veteran golfers are asked to be at Arlington Golf Course at 1:30 p.m. while incoming freshmen and upperclassmen who did not compete last year are asked to come later, at 3 p.m.

Following a welcoming talk, Chappell said his golfers should be prepared to take to the course.

Striking Mayor

NEW LANES. No. Granite City Mayor Pauler is not on strike, he just threw a strike on his first ball during the opening ceremonies of 16 new lanes at Granite City Bowl last week. The 16 new lanes brings the total number of lanes in the center to 32 and completes the renovation necessary of the tornado which struck the lanes on May 1, 1983.

At Tri-City Vogler in All-Star Circuit Saturday

GRANITE CITY — Current United States Auto Club point leader Ricky Hood and current All-Star point leader Fred Linder head the list of some of the nation's top outlaws sprint racers appearing this Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway. As many as 30 drivers are expected to compete.

This is the only 1984 visit of the All Star Circuit of Champions at the half-mile facility north of St. Louis. Drivers will be competing for the $12,000 purse.

Joining Vogler and Ferkel in the list of entries are Ricky Hood, Jack Howett, Kelly Kinser, Dave Blaney, Joe Gaerte, Fred Linder and the host driver on the All Star Circuit at this time, Jack Haudenschield. Well known race driver Hewitt of Troy, OH is promoting this event. Jack is nationally known as a winner.

in outlaw sprint cars, USAC sprints, UAC champ cars, and outlaw late models. Tickets are $10 and pit passes are $12. Gates open at 5 p.m., time trials are 7 p.m. with racing starting at 8 p.m.

Corral wins regional

Corral Liquor's fast-pitch softball team won the 1984 A.S.A. Men's Class A District Regional, with a perfect 5-0 record. Corral competed against a field of 21 area fastpitch teams.

Corral defeated Spanky's Saloon from Edwardsville 6-3, Marsh Stencil from Belleville 4-2, Hank's Excavating from Belleville 4-3, American Legion from Edwardsville 6-0, and McDonald's from Alton 13-5.

Corral's pitcher Ron Thouvenin was named the most valuable pitcher of the 10-day tournament.

Center fielder Darrell Wehrnd was named the most valuable player of the tournament as he finished 10-for-17, including a three-run homer and a two-run triple in the championship game.

Corral advances to the state tournament which will be held Aug. 3-12 at Southside Park in Belleville. The top six teams in eight areas will meet in the 48 team single-elimination tournament.

Corral's opening game will be Wednesday, August 8 at 6:30 p.m.

Griddler equipment pick up

Boys attending Granite City High School this fall who are interested in playing football should plan to pick up their equipment on Wednesday, Aug. 8, during one of three sessions.

According to new GCHS football coach Ron Yates, juniors and seniors should pick up their equipment at 3 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium's equipment room.

Sophomores should plan to pick up their equipment at 4 p.m., and incoming freshmen should pick up their equipment at 5 p.m.

Actual practices won't begin until the following Monday at 8 a.m., Yates said.

Deer maps made available

Persons seeking information about archery deer hunting seasons in Illinois or other states may find the information they need at a local sporting good store.

According to Nate Barg, general manager of Earl's Sporting Goods Stores, the maps, which are offered exclusively at the downtown location at Cleveland and 19th, are free to the public.

YMCA offers day care to school children

The Tri-City Area YMCA has developed an entirely new program called the Before and After School Cared Day Care Program. This program enables parents to drop their children off at the YMCA on their way to work, and pick them up at the YMCA on their way home, according to YMCA officials. The YMCA has purchased a new bus which will deliver children to their school in the mornings and pick them up at their schools in the afternoons. The program will provide "healthful" game activities.

The Before-School care will begin at 7 a.m. daily, and the After School care operates from school dismissal time to 6 p.m. This program coordinates with the public school calendar beginning in August. Due to the closing of the residence hall, YMCA officials say they will be able to provide more youth programs. Individuals may sign up for one or both sessions (before and after school). The cost is $10 a week for the before school and $12 for the after school program, or $22 for both sessions for YMCA members. For non-members, the cost is $15 before school and $18 for after school, or $33 for both sessions per week. Parents should register children one week in advance.

This program is designed for the working parent, officials say. This program can ease parent's minds by knowing their child is well-supervised and having fun at the same time.

Transportation will be furnished by the YMCA to and from school. Parents are reminded to pick their children up at 6 p.m.

For further information, interested persons may contact the YMCA at 876-7200.

BURGLAR GETS MICROWAVE

FOR PET'S SAKE
by James R. Hill, D.V.M.

The Friendly Skies
If you're going somewhere by air and you intend to take your pet along, there are a number of things you should keep in mind. Space is limited, so plan ahead. When you call for your own reservations, you should inquire at the same time about your pet.

Some airlines won't accept animals at all. Some others allow pets in the passenger cabin under certain conditions. Usually the pet is small enough to fit into a carrier under the seat. The number of animals on any one flight is restricted. In other cases, the pet would be flying in the cargo compartment. This area is pressurized and heated, but still there are only a limited number of animals permitted.

Don't forget to ask the airline for information on types of carriers available for pets. The one you use at home or in your car might not be suitable. Finally, consider how good a traveler your pet is. Nervous pets may travel more comfortably if they're sedated. Your veterinarian will be happy to advise you.

Savings deposits set a record

Paul P. Sodko, president of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, announced that the institution had recently exceeded one hundred million dollars in savings deposits. The firm has total assets of 115 million.

"It's another milestone for us and we especially want to thank our customers for their business and the confidence they continue to display in us," said Sodko.

Madison County Federal has offices in Granite City, Glen Carbon, Troy and Collinsville. A new office is nearing completion in Ginger Creek.

"We expect to be open in Ginger Creek by mid August. We also are constructing a mini mall adjacent to our savings and loan building which will house half a dozen retail shops. Ginger Creek is the third most affluent area in the state, based on per capita income, and is one of Southern Illinois' most rapidly growing areas. We are delighted to bring our financial services to this community," concluded Sodko.

Chapter 247 attends College of Regent session

Four members of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, attended the College of Regent meeting held in Rolla, Mo., at the Moose Lodge there, during the weekend.

Senior Regent Mary Stroff of the Rolla chapter, opened the session and introduced the College of Regent Chairman Catherine Coleman. She in turn presented the chapter with two checks, one to be forwarded to the Scholarship Fund and one to the Maintenance Fund at Mooseheart Child City.

Guest officers included Rose Valmer, Maplewood, Mo., as senior regent; Pauline Reed, Maplewood, treasurer; Mary Christian, Maplewood, musician and past grand council member; Lucille Gladine, Moberly, Mo., junior graduate regent; Wilma Cable, Moberly, sentinel; Doris Wood, Union, Mo., chaplain; Emogene Rahe, St. Charles, Mo., recorder.

During a local meeting of Chapter 247, Senior Regent Carolyn Hester presided and introduced Betty Johnson of Centralia, Ill., a past deputy grand regent, who addressed the group.

Approved for membership were Shirley Heath, sponsored by Lenetta Boyd, and Julie Ann Mead, sponsored by Frances Voyles.

Prior to the meeting a dinner was served to approximately 50 people. During a local meeting of Chapter 247, Senior Regent Carolyn Hester presided and introduced Betty Johnson of Centralia, Ill., a past deputy grand regent, who addressed the group.

Approved for membership were Shirley Heath, sponsored by Lenetta Boyd, and Julie Ann Mead, sponsored by Frances Voyles.

Pro tem officers for the evening were Edna Miller, Jennie Bilyeu, Mildred Votupal, Clara Johnson, Verna Wilson and Marian Lipscomb.

Junior Graduate Regent Benetta Boyd presented Alice Skaggs with a certificate as "20 worker of the year 1983-84" and Mrs. Hester announced the state convention will be in session Sept. 20 to the 23rd in Peoria, Ill.

Also, Accusers of Friendship night is scheduled for Aug. 7 in Granite City. Mrs. Hester said.

After the business segment refreshments were served by the College of Regents committee. The next regular session is set for Aug. 14 and will be "Membership Chapter Night" Mrs. Hester noted.

Venice-Madison Post 307 install officers

An installation of officers was held at the Venice-Madison Post 307, American Legion, during the weekend. Post officers installed were: Benny Mangiaracino, commander; Jerry Cicio, senior vice commander; Charles Svoboda, junior vice commander; Kenneth Hinson, adjutant and historian; Balazs Magyar, finance officer; Ray Harlan, chaplain; Harold Morrison, sergeant-at-arms; James Baker, service officer; and executive board members: Andy Hagopian, John Meehan, and Leon Scherfils.

Auxiliary officers installed were: Mr. Lettie Kelly Taylor, president;

Mr. Norma Patterson, first vice president; Mrs. Elenora Weber, second vice president; Miss Dorothy Hinson, secretary; Mrs. Norma Hillmer, treasurer; Mrs. Loretta Ziegler, historian; Mrs. Hazel Pozniak, chaplain; and Mrs. Kate McComb, sergeant-at-arms.

Installing officers for the American Legion were: James Egan, past 22nd District Commander from East St. Louis Post 53; William Gallagher, 22nd District Finance Officer from Columbia Post 581; and Thomas Domino, Past 22nd District Commander of Collinsville Post 365.

Auxiliary installing officers included: Mrs. Mary May, 22nd District President from Belleville Unit 58 and Mrs. Frances Cowley Past President of Venice-Madison Unit 307.

Howard Foley, retiring commander, presented past officer pins to all of the officers of this past year. He thanked all members and the auxiliary for the cooperation given him. Foley was presented a past commanders pin from the Post. Balazs Magyar and Irving Simmons were given a life membership from Post 307.

Mrs. Angie Udell, retiring president of the auxiliary, is in the hospital so her niece Mrs. Judy Modrisc accepted her past presidents pin from the unit and gave her thanks for a good year as president.

Mrs. Frances Cowley, was presented with a home service pin for 80 hours of work done for hospitalized veterans this year. Mr. Cowley cuts and glues crossword puzzles on cardboards for the VA hospitals in Illinois, it was noted.

Approximately 350 people attended and enjoyed the dinner before and the dancing following the installation.

Mrs. Johnson named top Avon salesman

Mrs. Donna Johnson of Granite City, an area Avon representative, was awarded the Representative of the Month pin at a monthly sales meeting conducted in the Granite City Township Hall, last week.

She received the award for selling 106 personal care items in two campaigns and her group leader, Cora Nance, announces she has received several prizes in previous campaigns as the top salesman.

Mrs. Johnson has been associated with the company for 15 years and is assigned to the West Granite area, Mrs. Nance added.

28 volumes of Thoreau

The complete works of Henry David Thoreau, the 19th-century essayist, poet and naturalist, are being prepared by 15 editors from 14 universities and the Library of Congress for publication in 28 volumes. The computer-aided project, already 17 years old, has cost $1.5 million.

Eagles Auxiliary receives plaque

Harold Love, president of Eagles Aerie, presented an engraved plaque to Mrs. Carol Hill, auxiliary president, in appreciation for the Father's Day dinner they served to members of the Aerie. The presentation was made during a regular monthly officers' breakfast at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave.

The plaque will be displayed in the Eagles club room, Mrs. Hill noted. For the auxiliary meeting Vince Zeran served as president, pro tem and opened the session with the roll call of officers and Yvonne Gray conductor, presented the flag and led the members in reciting the pledge of allegiance. This was followed by the presentation of the Bible and Mrs. Gray, the auxiliary mother.

Mrs. Helen Lipchik, chaplain pro tem, gave the opening prayer and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Helen Frazier, secretary. She read a letter from Crawfordville, Ind., Aerie-Auxiliary 1005 announcing the Central Regional Conference will be held at their Aerie on Sept. 28, 29 and 30. All Aerie and Auxiliary members in Illinois and Indiana are invited. Friday, Sept. 28, will be registration and a welcome dance and on Saturday morning and afternoon workshops will be conducted with a 6:30 p.m. banquet. A dance will take place later in the evening and on Sunday there will be a joint session.

The application of one new candidate for membership was read and presented to the investigating committee for approval with class initiation to be held at the last meeting in August.

Visiting Chairman Ann Konopka reported sending a greeting card to Catherine Pisel. Also, announced was a car wash to be held Saturday, Aug. 4, at the Eagles Home parking lot with the proceeds to go to the Escort Team.

Angie Buehler gave a review of the previous car wash and June Pritz submitted the treasurer's report.

The attendance prize was won by Mary Nemeth and the white elephant prize, donated by Ann Konopka, was presented to Stella Miller.

The closing ceremony was conducted by Gladys Freeman, a past junior president, Eileen Rickert, vice president, pro tem and the closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Lipchik.

Refreshments were served by Bonnie Brown and Virginia McCall, hostesses for the meeting.

Former resident authors devotional

Somewhere, among Doris Branding Gillo's meditations and thoughts on life and Christian devotion, a thought of sharing came to mind—a thought of sharing with the world all the other thoughts that she had written and shared with various church groups and organizations. That idea, encouraged by her two daughters, has led to the publication of Mrs. Gillo's book, "Musings, Meditations and Meanderings."

Mrs. Gillo, who once made Granite City her home, lives on a farm north of Edwardsville with her husband, Bill. Her active involvement in the Eden United Church of Christ, she says, may be the catalyst for the book, published by Fairway Press of Lima, Ohio.

"I haven't worked for a while," she says. "I find fulfillment as a wife and mother and a volunteer."

That volunteer work includes not only her involvement with her church, but also her participation in 4-H, the Home Economics Council of the Madison County Extension Service and as ethnic coordinator chairman for the International Hospitality Program and coordinator for all Pakistani students at Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville. Her book is distributed nationwide for $5.95 a copy through various churches and through such book stores as Davys Book and Gift Store in Granite City and the Little Professor Book Store in Edwardsville.

But nationwide distribution, Mrs. Gillo says, does not mean she'll be making a lot of money on the effort. "I hope I make a little bit, but this kind of publication doesn't sell a lot. I don't have a theological background. I just write what's personal to me."

In addition to this recent book, Mrs. Gillo has written two series of devotions for "These Days," another devotional.

The publication of her own devotional came after a friend who work ed for the United Church of Christ suggested she send it to a publishing company. She did, and company officials responded positively, telling her they had an affiliate that would publish the book.

As the title suggests, the book is divided into three sections, "Musings," "Meditations" and "Meanderings." "Musings," she explains, is a group of small devotions or ponderings. "Meditations" are devotions written for individual or group use, and "Meanderings" are insights into the background and beliefs of the author.

County Baptists to meet Aug. 20

The Madison County Baptist Association executive board will meet Monday, Aug. 20, at 7:30 p.m. at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., the county director announced.

In addition to the reports the agenda will include adoption of the 1985 budget, calendar, nomination of directors and standing committee members and job description for director of missions.

Also the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave., has planned a four part film series of Anthony Campolo on Aug. 13, 14, 16 and 17. All churches are invited to be part of this and to bring young people for this special emphasis, the association director added.

Cardinal Pote appointment
Cardinal Pote was appointed a legate by Pope Paul III on Feb. 9, 1537, to bring about Henry VIII's return to the obedience of Rome.

First Presbyterian notes fall programs

Beginning in September there will be new and different programs and services at the First-United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue, the Rev. Richard Hunt announced.

There is a new family fellowship service and church school scheduled for 9 a.m. on Sunday to be preceded by coffee, donuts and juice beginning at 8:30 a.m. The church family will gather around the tables in the Fellowship Hall, and after the gathering and children's message, the children in grades kindergarten through the sixth will be dismissed to their church school classes.

The youth and adults will remain for continued worship and sharing in the Fellowship Hall. Special music will add to the less formal worship experience, the pastor explained.

Rev. Hunt continued, "some families and individuals may want to come just for this service, being dismissed about 10 a.m. and others will prefer the continuing traditional worship service at 10:30 a.m., with the robot choir, pipe organ, and in inspirational sermon. Those that like a church school and worship time will want to attend both."

New programs scheduled for young people on Sundays begin Sept. 9 with the junior high program for grades seven and eight meeting together for confirmation, church school and fellowship experience. The senior high program will feature a fellowship and study project for grades nine through 12. Both will meet weekly from 6 to 7:30 p.m. in the church building.

A third program to meet either prior to or following the above groups is the Youth Choir being planned by the worship committee.

Adult education this fall will start with a six session study on "Barclay Introduces the Bible" to be taught by Rev. Hunt, each Wednesday evening.

The Rev. Robert C. Landes, the church's former parish associate, will lead the congregation in worship on Aug. 5 and 12th while Rev. Hunt is attending the New Wilmington Conference in Pennsylvania.

Tara Sander marks second birthday

Tara Victoria Sander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Debbie) Sander, 164 Voight Place, Mitchell, was honored on her second birthday at a party given by her parents.

A Tom and Jerry motif was used for the decorations in the dining room that also featured orange and yellow streamers and balloons.

The afternoon was spent in playing games with prizes awarded to the youngsters. After the honoree opened her gifts ice cream, cake and punch was served to guests. Torrie and Robbie Henderson, Danetta and Danny Mull, Holly and Timmy Eugea, Amy Godwin, and Steven Sander, the guest of honor's brother. Mrs. Sander was assisted by Margie Mayes and Cindy Godwin.

During the evening another party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Sander. Guests included Marla Jansen and sons, Justin and Joshua, E. J. Manier, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Filkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell, Sue Oliver, Lorle Oliver and daughter Laurene Wilkinson, Randy Choate, Paula Sander, Nora McManus, and Dorothy Nichols, maternal grandmother of the honoree.

Tri City Park Tabernacle plans 'tag sale and social'

Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 3400 Maryville Road, will be conducting a "Giant Tag Sale and Social" Friday and Saturday, Aug. 3 and 4, according to Rev. Jim Parks, coordinator of the event.

The sale begins at 9 a.m. on Friday morning and runs until 5 p.m. that evening. It will re-open on Saturday morning at 9 a.m. and continue indefinitely on Saturday, according to Rev. Parks.

In addition to the sale there will be a soup and salad bar on Friday only. The special sale of homemade doughnuts, fresh and hot, on Saturday morning begins at 9 a.m. In addition to these homemade items, there will be fresh homemade baked goods for sale.

The tag sale will include clothing for all sizes, including cabbage patch doll clothes, made by ladies of the church; furniture, dishes, glassware, knick-knacks, and on Saturday only, a special Avon collection will be offered for sale, it was reported by the pastor.

The public is invited to attend free of charge. Those wanting further information may call the church at 931-4500.

Day of Renewal Saturday at Our Lady of the Snows

The Victim Missionaries at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will celebrate their Day of Renewal, Saturday, Aug. 4, in the Dr. Tom Dooley Center beginning at 10:30 a.m. The August Day of Renewal is not the closing night of the annual novena this year.

The Victim Missionaries, a spiritual movement by and for people with handicaps and others who are chronically ill, conduct their monthly Day of Renewal on the first Saturday of each month.

Mitchell Baptist Church to celebrate anniversary

Members of the congregation of the First Baptist Church of Mitchell, will celebrate its 25th anniversary as a church on Thursday, Aug. 9, with an all day service on Sunday, Aug. 12, according to the present minister, the Rev. Henry Moser.

The church began as a mission Sunday School on May 4, 1955, sponsored by Calvary Baptist Church of Granite City. Enrollment in Sunday School as of October 1955 was 45 with an average attendance of 20.

On Jan. 4, 1956, the Rev. John Kleeman was called to be the mission pastor and in March of that year property was purchased for a meeting place.

The mission continued to grow and by the summer of 1959 the congregation felt led to be constituted as a church.

Local church to sponsor 'God's Prison Gang' film

"God's Prison Gang," a newly released film featuring Al Capone's getaway driver, the late member of Bonnie and Clyde's gang and two other notorious criminals who have become Christians will be shown at Bromley Pentecostal Church of God, 24th and Bromley, Sunday, Aug. 5, at 7 p.m.

The film, shot behind the walls of New York's Attica prison, is hosted by Art Lindtner. It tells the story of how the work of International Prison Ministry is accomplishing what more guards, higher prison walls and greater financial expenditures have failed to do—keep released inmates from returning to lives of crime.

Calvary Baptist Church completed plans to call a council for organization, with local churches, the association and state officers taking part in the event set for Aug. 9, 1959.

The church was constituted with 69 charter members and called the Rev. Richard Vansyoc as its first pastor. There are eight of the original charter members still recorded as active members.

A new church building was constructed in 1961 at 608 English Place, Mitchell, and is still in use with fully planned worship hours and Sunday School as well as other activities, Rev. Moser added.

The public is invited to attend the celebration, he noted.

Also featured is "Chaplain Ray," whose Dallas-based International Prison Ministry has changed the lives of hundreds of inmates over the past 18 years.

The Rev. Harold T. Gillison, pastor of the host church, invited the public.

Bible School set at Suburban Baptist

Vacation Bible School at Suburban Baptist Church, 2500 St. Clair Ave., will be conducted from Monday, Aug. 6, through Friday, Aug. 10, according to Mrs. Karen Wolf, director of the summer project.

Children from four years old through the sixth grade will attend sessions scheduled for 9 to 11:30 a.m. each day.

A kickoff fair is planned for Sunday on the church grounds from 2 to 4 p.m. featuring game booths, relay races and refreshments for the entire family. Pre-registration will be conducted at this time and all children attending the fair are expected to attend the summer Bible school, the director explained.

Also, arrangements are completed to host a family night on Friday beginning at 7 p.m. to conclude the program, Mrs. Wolf added.

SIUE student dancing her way to career

By PAT JOINER

Hancy Grimes had to be pushed in to trying out for swing choir student choreographer at Collinsville High School. She didn't think she was good enough.

A girlfriend called when the school held tryouts and told her to come. Miss Grimes went. Grudgingly. She was chosen student choreographer.

THAT WAS Hancy Grimes' first taste of choreography. Now she wants to make it her career.

The sophomore at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) went to swing choir camp that summer and three other summers after she was chosen student choreographer. There, she learned swing choir methods and was involed in putting on a song and dance show with other camp participants. Later, she took dance classes in Collinsville and then went to SIUE to study.

Miss Grimes had looked at other colleges but did not like what she saw. She decided to attend the university because of the theater and dance department faculty. "I talked to the faculty," she said, "and I fell in love with them."

SHE FELT SHE would get more individualized attention at SIUE than she would at schools with larger dance programs. "I have to know quite a lot about tap, jazz, ballet, and the forms. I want to be a choreographer and a good one," she said.

She wants to choreograph because she enjoys being creative. "I see things going on in my head. Maybe I can't do it, but I can tell someone else how to do it," she said. She believes she can create and direct choreography for dancers to perform.

The 19-year-old SIUE student also likes the "freedom" of performance. She says "freedom" is the ability to express herself through dance without being bound by what someone else thinks.

SHE COMPARED performing to long distance running. "If you run long enough, it won't hurt anymore. You just keep on going, then it becomes a high. It brings on a natural high."

When you perform, you just want to keep on. You could keep me on stage forever.

Miss Grimes plans to base her career in the St. Louis area but wants to travel to see the work of choreographers in other parts of the United States and the world.

SHE IS A member of the SIUE Dance Company and has performed in the Faculty Dance Concert. In high school, she played the lead in three musicals, in addition to working as student choreographer in swing choir.

The music performance minor also takes voice lessons, plays the piano and composes music. She choreographs for the First Presbyterian Church in Collinsville and plans to compete for the title "Miss Collinsville" next month.

Book explores Madison County firefighting history

By PETER L. SIMPSON

Working on a monthly firefighters' newsletter has led a Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) English professor back into the reaches of Madison County history. The history of Madison County firefighting is now a book, the result of an unusual authorial collaboration.

In late 1981, in need of editorial assistance for a monthly newsletter, Captain Dennis Henson of the Edwardsville Fire Department sent out a call for help. As training officer for the Madison County Firemen's Association, he edited a newsletter, appropriately called "Firefighter."

A SIMPLE monthly mimeographed sheet has grown into a multi-paged, illustrated publication going to more than 1,000 readers. Henson's desire for assistance reached the ears of the department of English language and literature at SIUE.

After writing a book on the English film scripter, novelist and short-story writer John Collier, Professor Betty Richardson was looking for new ground to break. Recognized for her strong commitment to new roles and rights for women, her first book was called "Sexism in Higher Education."

My interests include writing and people in all their rich diversity," Professor Richardson says in the preface to her new book. It is entitled, "Serving Together: 150 Years of Firefighting in Madison County, Ill."

SHE NOTES that her involvement is part of the public service mission of the university. With the active approval of Department Chairman David Butler, "I allowed myself to be placed on loan because I deeply believe that the skills of the university should be put to the service of the community at large."

Her skills, in collaboration with the experience, insight and contacts of Captain Henson, produced the book that will be introduced to the public at an autograph party on Tuesday, Aug. 7.

The party will be from 5 to 7 p.m. at The Book Shelf, 128 North Main St., Edwardsville. The first copy will be presented to the mayor of Edwardsville, Kenneth L. Evers.

FOR OTHERS, the sum of $6 will buy a copy for signature by the co-authors. The book printed by Phillips Brothers, Inc., of Springfield, was supported by a number of grants, including $15,339 from the university, $9,900 through the Illinois Humanities Council with funds from the National Endowment for the Humanities and strong support from the Madison County Firemen's Association.

Readers will find an exploration of the history of firefighting and rescue operations in Madison County, fire service leaders and heroes and the development of the association.

The traditions associated with the service in this area also offer many stimulating pages. "Working with 'Firefighter,'" notes Professor Richardson, "I read some wonderful stories and became acquainted with some splendid people."

THERE SEEMS to be something about the fire service that brings out the best in people. Gradually, talking with old-timers, I realized the wealth of history stored in the memories of these men and in their scrapbooks.

Armed with initial planning funds from the university and then a substantial outside grant, Captain Henson and Professor Richardson engaged on a two-part project.

They produced a photo exhibit for the Fire Service Tent at the 1983 Illinois State Fair at Springfield. Henson collected the pictures and had them enlarged and mounted. Display frames were designed by David Huntly of the SIUE Office of Museums and Cultural Arts.

THE DISPLAY is now housed at Fireman's Hall in Collinsville, headquarters of the MCFCA. It will move around the county as interest requires.

David Clelland, of the Office of Area Development, provided maps, one of which serves as the front ispiece. The office is coordinated by Robert Koepke.

Work on the entire project, especially the history, was supported at the highest levels of the university, including Butler, now dean of the School of Humanities, Vice President and Provost Barbara Peters and President Earl Lazerson.

NOT ONLY was the president involved, his wife, Ann, shared in the work, conducting a number of the oral interviews that enrich the text. Butler also got information from Fosterberg, where he resides, and checked over the manuscript.

Getting the oral interviews was not simply hit-or-miss. Several of Professor Richardson's colleagues played critical roles. Professor Jules Zanger gave workshops in oral history to train interviewers; Dickens scholar Robert Duncan defined the role of the great novelist; Professor Emeritus Paul Guenther explored the Highland archives, translating documents from their original German. Other members of the SIUE staff who participated included Nedra Branz, Dan Gonczy, Barbara Lawrence and Marvin Solomon.

LEADERS OF THE Madison County Firefighters Association actively participated. The long-time secretary of the organization, Marvin F. Behrman, went "through many years of records."

Fire chiefs around the county were cooperative, offering access to ledgers and records for the project, providing names for interviews and being interviewed themselves. They were both generous and good humored about the "frequent raids on their departments," according to Professor Richardson.

Students also played a role in the finished product. English graduate student Dolores Jones poured through the microfilms of the Edwardsville Intelligencer. Toni Opti, a major in English and journalism, checked information and did the hard detail of copy-editing. SIUE graduate students Marty Komorny, Denise Madrid and Elizabeth Riggs assisted at various points along the way.

THE PROJECT even involved a number of citizens in the community. Among the many, Professor Richardson singles out State Senator Sam M. Vaden, who gave both a letter of support and an interview. Letters of support were also written by Anna Symanski, superintendent of the Madison County Historical Museum, and Edwardsville Mayor Evers.

LAURA ELLEN VICKERS of Granite City, received a degree in English from Evangel College, Springfield, Ill. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lee Vickers of 21 Eduardo Drive. While at the college, Miss Vickers was a member of Sigma Tau Delta national English society.

TWO GRANITE CITY STUDENTS graduated recently with business degrees from Robert Morris College. Local students include Christine Siers of 1731 Maple St., and Nikhya Vauters of 1220 Logan St. Both students graduated from the accounting program.

CATHERINE ANNE BUCKLER of Granite City, has been named to the 1984 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Students are nominated based on their academic achievement and service to the community. Leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success. Miss Buckler is a student at the University of Texas. She is the daughter of Mrs. Alyce Neuman.

DAVID MCLEAN of Granite City will be spending the 1984-85 school year in London in the International Studies Program conducted there by Central College of Peoria. The program in London is designed to provide an international experience for students who wish to study abroad without a second language.

The college offers a liberal arts curriculum with courses taught by professors from faculties in England and Wales. McLean is a student at Bradley University in Peoria.

Course to help welders qualify

Bellevue Area College can help students prepare for the American Welding Society Inspector Qualification and Certification Exam.

Qualification and Certification Procedures for Welding Inspectors (WLDT 256-01) will teach students skills they'll need to become a welding inspector. Certification as an inspector will help students in their job search or in their present welding job.

AN INSPECTOR'S duties and responsibilities will be reviewed during the course. A series of tests also will be given so students can chart their progress.

The class will meet from 9 a.m. to 1:10 p.m. Saturdays for 10 weeks, beginning Aug. 25.

For more information, students may call Garner Kimbrell, coordinator of BAC's welding program, 1-235-2700, extension 252.

Programming course slated

If students need to get out of their knowledge of the BASIC computer language, Bellevue Area College can help them.

BASIC Programming for Business will help students expand their knowledge and skills with the BASIC language and enable them to tailor programs to meet your business needs.

THE ONLY prerequisite for this course is a knowledge of BASIC programming or the BAC course introduction to Microcomputers BASIC.

The course will meet this fall from 7 to 9:45 p.m. Fridays at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road beginning Friday, Aug. 31.

"I came to GCC to continue my education. Each time I've gone to school, it's involved a commute, but this is a very easy one. It's so close."

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

In 1979 the Illinois Supreme Court decided that if a custodial parent lived with a member of the opposite sex without benefit of marriage, this alone could be a basis for changing custody. The Court later clarified this decision and ruled in 1983 that cohabitation by the custodial parent was only one factor in determining whether a change of custody was justified, and that a transfer of custody would not be automatic in this situation. A recent decision by the United States Supreme Court carried this concept one step further.

Recently a case developed where the custodial parent was not only cohabiting but doing so with a member of another race. In this case, the wife had originally received custody of the parties' three year old daughter at the time of the divorce. A year later, the woman, who was white, moved in and cohabited with a black male. The father of the child sought a change of custody based on the mother's cohabitation with a black man.

Although the mother had married the black male by the time of the trial, and trial court decided a change of custody was in the best interest of the child and gave the child to her father. The Court, in transferring custody, noted that if the child was allowed to remain in her present situation, she would suffer from the "social stigmatization that is sure to come." The appellate courts affirmed this decision and the case wound up in the United States Supreme Court.

In this 1984 case, the U. S. Supreme Court in a unanimous decision reversed this change of custody. The Court noted that this change of custody had been based on some apparent societal pressure upon the child due to the bi-racial relationship. The Court felt that granting a change on this basis only served to put the government's "stamp of approval" upon private racial prejudice.

The Court conceded that this country was far from free of racial biases but refused to allow, by any means, state support of those biases. This decision clearly stands for the proposition that one's choice of a partner of a different race will not justify taking away the child of the party making the choice. It should be noted, however, that living together without benefit of marriage can still result in a change of custody.

MADISON FIRE DEPARTMENT'S Ethnic Festival begins Friday and will continue through Sunday, Aug. 5, at the Memorial Recreation Center, Seventh Street and Lee Avenue. The festival will feature carnival rides, concession stands, arts and crafts, live music and dancing, and a variety of ethnic food. The festival will open at 4 p.m. Friday and continue until midnight. It opens at 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday and closes at midnight both nights. Advance carnival ride tickets are on sale at the Madison Fire Station.

MADISON COUNTY HEAD START PROGRAM is now accepting applications of children ages 3½ to 5 who reside in Madison County and are from low-income families. Applications will be taken from 9 a.m. to noon Aug. 3, 6, 10, 13 and 17. For additional information, parents may call 876-2381.

WOMEN INTERESTED IN LEARNING MORE about breastfeeding are being encouraged to attend the next meeting of the Granite City La Leche League at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 6, at 2138 Hamilton Dr. The topic of discussion will be "The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties." Further information may be obtained by calling 931-6774 or 876-2158.

DR. L.A. SHIPLEY will give a lecture on back pain and scoliosis at 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 6, at his office, 2502 Ponton Road. The lecture is free and open to the public.

PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS' Adult Entertainment Night will feature dancing Saturday, Aug. 4, at Nichols in Collinsville. A carpool will meet at Bob's Shell in Bellemore Village Shopping Center at 8 p.m.

CONCERT SET SUNDAY

AT MISSIONARY BAPTIST

The Southern Missionary Baptist Church, 921 Bissell St., Madison, will host a concert Sunday, Aug. 5, at 6 p.m.

Vesta Buckels, president of the Pastor's Aid organization, is sponsoring the musical that will feature the No. 3 Choir of Pleasant Dream Baptist Church in St. Louis.

The Rev. William Wise Sr., host minister, is extending an invitation to the public to attend the afternoon event.

2 VANDALS APPREHENDED

Two boys, aged 12 and 10, are alleged to have damaged the home of Herschel Cassady at 7 Wilson Park Drive Tuesday evening, using rocks, mud and soda bottles to dent siding, chip bricks and break windows. They were located by police and their parents agreed to pay for the damage.

TRAFFIC WARRANT SERVED

Scott G. Briggs, 26, of 2139 Lee Ave. was arrested last week by Granite City police on a warrant alleging a traffic violation. He was released on $102 cash bail.

SALES AWARD. Ron Abenroth, left, of Granite City is awarded a plaque by Assistant Zone Manager R.R. Smith for having the highest percentage of new and used car sales in the St. Louis zone. Abenroth is the manager for Four Flags Motors Inc., in Edwardsville. The plaque was presented to Abenroth at a Sales Master Banquet in St. Louis.

GC park pre-school registration set

The Granite City Park District will have pre-school registration on Tuesday, Aug. 14, at 9 a.m. Registration will be at the Wilson Park Office. This is for children who will be 4 years old any time during 1984 (born in 1980).

The cost for the pre-school program is $30 per year for park district residents and $40 per year for non-residents which must be paid at the time of registration. This eliminates the children having to bring 50 cents each day they attend.

Parents interested in enrolling their children in these classes must be 50 in person and present proof of residence, such as a current utility bill with name and address on it and the child's birth certificate. Anyone who works or is on vacation the day of registration may send the proper material for his child by a friend or neighbor. No person can enroll more than two children, however.

The pre-school will begin the week of Sept. 10. Classes are limited to 30 children each. A choice of class days will be given at registration. The school meets at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues, with each group attending twice a week, either mornings or afternoons.

Anyone living outside of the Granite City Park District will be placed on a waiting list and will be called in the order he or she is on the list.

The instructors for the pre-school classes are Lynn McClain and Kathy Hitt. For more information, parents may call the Wilson Park Office at 877-3059.

Madison hires another new officer

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

The controversy over hiring additional police officers to serve the city of Madison continued Tuesday night as the council met and aldermen changed their views on recommendations presented by the Board of Police Commissioners.

A letter from the commissioners presented at the previous meeting stated, "at this time, we strongly recommend the hiring of three new police officers. One to be hired immediately and the other two in time to attend the Police Academy in September. We, the Board of Police Commissioners, recommend that Steven Skoklo be the first officer hired. Further recommendation of names to be hired will be presented at the next regular meeting."

At the July 17 meeting, Alderman William Gushfield introduced a motion to concur with the recommendation and Alderman Andy Economy seconded his motion, which passed. This Tuesday night, in an abrupt face, Alderman Gushfield rescinded his motion from the previous meeting and then made a motion to hire just one officer, with a favor to his motion made by Thomas Gordon.

All aldermen voted in favor of the motion with the exception of Aldermen Robert Grieve, Christ Custoff and Charles Rockett, who all voted against it.

STEVEN SKOKLO was hired at the earlier meeting and Tuesday night the aldermen agreed to hire Richard Ballew as a probationary officer. Ballew was the top man on the eligibility list, based upon his grade average from the police examination.

Mayor Mike Sasyk explained he was previously passed over until his physical condition could be met by the city's chosen physician.

The third man on the list was a Granite City resident and was, therefore, rejected. The next to be hired, according to test results, should be Curtis Bradley, the only black candidate for the police force.

APPARENTLY to satisfy Alderman Don Garrett, who stated the residents of West Madison need police protection and have very little, the aldermen agreed to hire George Freeman as an additional police officer at the July 17 meeting.

Tuesday night, they also agreed to hire George Wallace in the same capacity, thereby bringing a two-man police force for the West Madison area.

In other business, John Dutko, city inspector, reported 28 permits were issued for a two-week period.

A LETTER from Southwestern Cable TV, Ltd., requesting an easement from the city of Madison within three weeks, was referred to the proper committee until a later date, at the request of the mayor.

City Clerk John Bellico read a letter announcing the Metro-East Major League Day, sponsored by the Mayors' Association, will honor 80 ball players from Madison and St. Clair counties. Mayor Sasyk asked Gordon to serve as chairman of the project, which is scheduled for Oct. 26 at the Belle-Claire Fairground in Belleville.

Tickets will cost $20 each and all proceeds will be donated to the Special Olympics, organized for physically and mentally handicapped children.

THE PROBLEM of Mount Nebo Baptist Church having steps on the boundary line of the property and existing alley was postponed during the July 17 meeting and brought forth another difference of opinion between Garrett and Dutko Tuesday night.

Dutko explained at the previous meeting that the architect admitted the plans were designed wrong and when he arrives at a solution, he will contact Dutko.

Garrett said Tuesday night, "I cannot see the problem, since the alley makes an 'S' curve and is not a straight line. Where were you when the city made this crooked line for an alley. Do the people have to abide by the rules and city does not."

DUTKO contends if anyone is injured on city-owned property, the city will be liable for any injuries, therefore he will continue to follow the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals, which refused a variance of the property line the church requested.

At this point, Mayor Sasyk told both men that he and the others would inspect the site on Wednesday and arrive at a solution to be presented to the council by the next meeting.

Alderman H. Rockett continues to ask each meeting when the city plans to repair the Bissel Street section torn up by the detour, while repairs were made to the Venice underpass, and is consistently told by the mayor that the work will begin as soon as other projects are completed.

THE UNDERPASS was started in 1982 with the agreement that the state would provide all materials to return the street to its original condition when work on the underpass was completed. Madison is to supervise and the city of Venice is to provide the manpower for the job.

In answer to Rockett, the mayor said, "I think we have everything worked out and, as soon as the parking lot work here at the city hall is finished, I think we can begin work on Bissel Street."

A police department report issued by Police Chief Donald Bridick indicated there was a 49 percent decrease in crime for the month of June 1984, as compared to the month of June 1983. Fine money collected for the month amounted to $2,183.

THE REPORT listed one business burglary and three apartment burglaries.

Tax supported funds listed in the appropriations are: police pension fund, $75,000; public library fund, $7,021; emergency services and disaster expenses $1,400; insurance fund $65,000; playground and recreation fund $54,087; Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund $100,000; Revenue Sharing Fund $62,700; Ambulance Service Fund $25,240; Two-percent Fire Insurance Fund $10,000, and Shopping Center project $65,900, for a total of $437,548.

Mayor Mike Sasyk announced his aldermanic committees for the fiscal year and stated that Judy Donaldson, who has been acting controller for a year and a half, will now be the permanent controller and Shirley Greer, acting recreation director, will assume the position as a permanent employee.

In other business, the aldermen approved paying the monthly bills amounting to $46,000.

John Bellico, city clerk, read and opened and read bids for the sale of various city-owned vehicles. The highest bid for a 1975 Buick was $125 from Bob's Auto & Tire Sales, which also was the highest bidder for a 1962 Ford van, going for $200. The 1958 tractor went for $200, the highest bid offer from Charles Reed of Madison.

The mayor then asked that the people be notified that they are to pick up the equipment within two weeks or the sales will revert to the next highest bidder.

He offers for the purchase of a new power cleaning machine from four vendors, ranged from $75,000 to $99,746 and were referred to the purchasing committee and the street department to study the proposals. They are to bring their findings to the next council meeting for action, the mayor said.

THEFT CHARGES ARE FILED

In a case that originated in June, Rhonda Hanson, 18, of 172 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, was charged last week by Granite City police with petty theft and receiving another person's credit card; Herman Smith Jr., 19, of 86 Garesche Homes, Madison, was booked up two counts of petty theft.

CASH TAKEN FROM HOME

Cheryl Williams of 4505 Kirkpatrick Homes told police during the weekend that someone entered her home while she was sleeping and took $114 from her wallet. Police reports said that all of the doors were unlocked.

ARREST AT DISTURBANCE

John W. Davis, 30, of 2003 Washington Ave. was charged last week with disorderly conduct after police responded to a street disturbance in the 2000 block of Washington. They alleged he agreed to stay home but returned to the group when officers departed.

Madison budget up $166,038

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Madison City councilmen Tuesday night passed the city's budget for the fiscal year which began May 1, 1984, and ends April 30, 1985. In the general fund segment, the new budget totals $1,416,372, an increase of $166,038 over the previous year's budget.

The total figure includes a six percent salary hike for all city employees which was approved at the previous city council meeting.

Anticipated receipts for the same period are expected to amount to $1,147,189.

The Sewer Department budget increase of $82,980 over the previous year reflects the possible purchase of a sewer cleaning machine, estimated to cost $75,000.

Also, the second highest increase was in the street and alley category, showing an increase of $61,270 over the 1983 budget figure of $179,001, as compared to total $240,271 for this year. An additional $3,580 was added to the line "repairs to equipment" which last year was $12,500 and this year the figure was set at $15,000, and the addition of $20,000 for the purchase of a dump truck and $12,000 for a pickup truck.

The refuse department showed the third highest increase, but also reflected decreases in two divisions. A total for this year of $146,814 is $46,979 higher than last year's total of $99,835. The salaries appropriated for the foreman and employees was $51,414, down from $65,985 the previous year. Fire and fire repair appropriations increased by $500 this year (totaling $2,000 last year) as did equipment purchases ($2,500 last year versus $5,000 for this year) and the inclusion of $40,000 for a 20-yard dump truck in the new appropriations.

Other general fund appropriations follow with the 1983-84 figures in parentheses.

Police Department—$365,969 ($21,300); Fire Department—$87,075 ($71,300); Street and Alley Department—$240,271 ($179,001); Executive Department—$35,304 ($33,299); Legislative Department—$28,600 ($25,750); City Clerk's Department—$6,500 ($5,700); Health & Humane Department—$9,306 ($7,950); Finance & Accounting Department—$46,540 ($45,400).

The only segment in the budget to show a decrease for the year is the Municipal Building Department—$10,025 ($18,377); Building Inspector's Department—$22,328 ($21,260); Street Lights, Gas & Electricity—$70,000 ($67,600); Fire Hydrant & Water—$7,500 ($5,200); Insurance (hospital, health and life insurance)—$50,000 ($49,200).

But categories that remained the same included the Contingency Fund at $20,000; Bridge operation—$2,500; industrial site cleanup and party maintenance, taxes) $25,000.

insville, Illinois.

Claims against the estate will be filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Probate Division, Madison County Courthouse, in Edwardsville, Illinois, within 6 months from the date of issuance of Letters and any claim not so filed is barred as to all of the decedent's estate. Copies of claims must be mailed to or delivered to the Executor and to his attorney.

Rash of burglaries and tire slashings in Madison

A total of nine burglaries and four tire slashings occurred within a 48 hour period in Madison earlier this week.

In three of the break-ins, no items were taken, and in three others, the information surrounding the burglaries is being withheld by the Madison police pending investigation.

The first crime was committed sometime Sunday, with the last in the group being committed Monday night.

Those reporting a break-in, but nothing missing, were Mary Pierson of 1025 Washington Ave., who said her home's garage door had been pried open Sunday night; Dora Evangeloff of 1217 Iowa St., who said her garage door was opened Sunday night and a garage door at the residence of Ruth Stronoff of 1211 Iowa St., also was pried open Sunday night.

Of the three reports where items were reported missing, one involved a purse belonging to Ethel Cook of 151 Second St., Madison. Her roommate, Bonnie Allison, told police that the two women were asleep Monday evening, when the theft occurred. She told police that an entry had been made by cutting open the rear screen door. Police discovered the purse in a trash container behind the apartments. The only thing missing was $20.

At 7:10 a.m. Monday, Harry Montine, 1201 Iowa St., told police that someone entered the north window of his garage, taking a tool chest containing mechanic's tools.

INVESTIGATE MEAT THEFT

Venice authorities are investigating the theft of about 50 pounds of roast beef and a number of large pans from the kitchen of Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, reported Monday morning. There were no signs of forced entry.

BURGLAR TAKES TV

The home of Douglas Griggs of 628 Mercedia Ave., Venice, was broken into last week. Entry was gained by kicking in the back door to the home. Taken was a 13-inch color television.

Another burglary was reported to police at 10:05 a.m. Monday. Stanley Skubish of 1018 Grand Ave., told police someone pried open the door on the south side of his shed and took a power saw, a sander and two power drills.

Tire slashings that occurred included two cars belonging to Richard and Debbie Tutka of 1800 Edwardsville Road, Madison. Police were notified of the slashings at 10:35 a.m. Monday. Two tires on one car and one tire on a second car were damaged.

Another tire slashing occurred at 1703 Sixth St., Madison, reported at 7:23 a.m. Monday. Phillip Kozielec told police that someone slashed all four tires of his car during the night.

ALLEN GLASPER JR., owner of Designs Unlimited at 320 Broadway, Venice, demonstrates a product for L and M Hair Care Products Inc., during the National Beauty League Cosmetology Convention in Miami Beach, Fla. Glasper represented the company during the convention recently.
